

Satanism in Islam

Research work and Study by Hagur

Remember. Islam/Muslims are instructed, told, they are allowed to lie and deceive non believers in order to promote, kill, take over, conquer. Do you know this person? Do you really know this person? Seriously. Do you?

General Foreword

Satanism is a broad term referring to a group of social movements comprising diverse ideological and philosophical beliefs. Their shared religion includes symbolic association with or admiration for Satan, whom Satanists see as an inspiring and liberating figure. It was estimated that there were 50,000 Satanists in 1990. There may now be as many as one hundred thousand Satanists in the world.

Particularly after the European Enlightenment, some works, such as Paradise Lost, were taken up by Romantics and described as presenting the biblical Satan as an allegory representing a crisis of faith, individualism, free will, wisdom and enlightenment. Those works actually featuring Satan as a heroic character are fewer in number but do exist. George Bernard Shaw and Mark Twain (cf. Letters from the Earth) included such characterizations in their works long before religious Satanists took up the pen. From then on, Satan and Satanism started to gain a new meaning outside of Christianity.

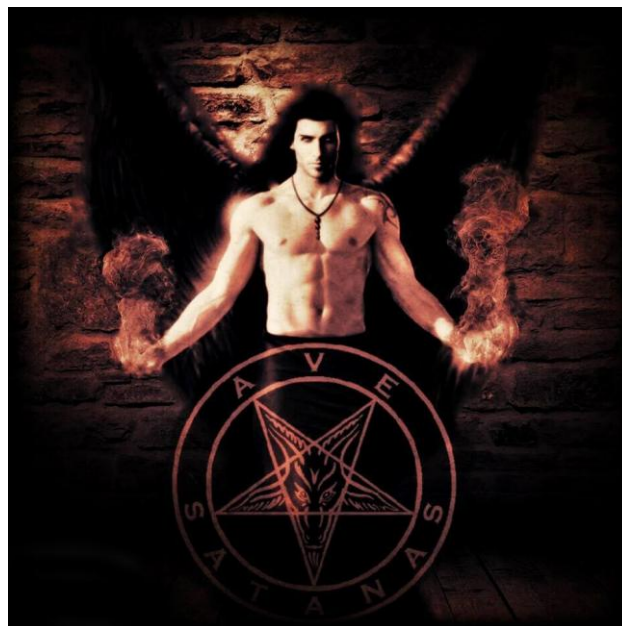

Eliphas Lévi's Sabbatic goat (known as The Goat of Mendes or Baphomet) has become one of the most common symbols of Satanism.

Although the public practice of Satanism began with the founding of The Church of Satan in 1966, historical precedents exist: a group called the Ophite Cultus Satanas was founded in Ohio by Herbert Arthur Sloane in 1948.

Satanist groups that appeared after the 1960s are widely diverse, but two major trends are theistic Satanism and atheistic Satanism. Theistic Satanists venerate Satan as a supernatural deity, viewing him not as omnipotent but rather as a patriarch. In contrast, atheistic Satanists regard Satan as merely a symbol of certain human traits.

There are signs that Satanistic beliefs have become more socially tolerated. Satanism is now allowed in the Royal Navy of the British Armed Forces, despite opposition from Christians, and in 2005, the Supreme Court of the United States debated over protecting the religious rights of prison inmates after a lawsuit challenging the issue was filed to them.

Contemporary Satanism is mainly an American phenomenon, the ideas spreading with the effects of globalization and the Internet. The Internet promotes awareness of other Satanists, and is also the main battleground for the definitions of Satanism today. Satanism started to reach Eastern Europe in the 1990s, in time with the fall of the Soviet Union, and most noticeably in Poland and Lithuania, predominantly Roman Catholic countries.

Allah is Chaitan (Satanas)

Few books have had the publicity that surrounds The Satanic Verses by Salman Rushdie. This brief article seeks to provide some background material for the book's title and for reasons why even the title might disturb Muslims.

Islam strongly opposes idolatry, polytheism, associating anything or anyone with God. In fact, Islam's creed in Arabic begins with a negative: Not is there a god except God. It contrasts sharply with the contention of Muhammad's Arab contemporaries that God had associates. Some of these associates are even mentioned in the Qur'an, among them three female deities: al-Lat, al-Uzza and Manat. Each had a shrine in separate places not far from Mecca in Arabia, where Muhammad was born and began his mission. They were even considered to be daughters of God!

The Qur'an, as it now reads, obviously rejects these deities. But—and here comes the issue—did the Qur'an and Muhammad always reject them?

While Muhammad was in Mecca, his followers were few, his movement grew painfully slowly and he, too, felt the pain of estrangement from his tribe. According to early and treasured biographical and historical accounts of Muhammad, authored by competent Muslim scholars (such as writings of at-Tabari and Ibn Sa'd), Muhammad longed for better relations and reconciliation with his community. Thereafter, the accounts continue, God revealed Surah 53 to Muhammad up to and including vss. 19, 20. These two verses read:

Have ye thought upon al-Lat and al-Uzza.

And Manat, the third, the other? (53:19,20).

Then, originally, the verses (known today as the satanic verses) followed:

These are the exalted cranes (intermediaries) Whose intercession is to be hoped for.

The cranes whose intercession was recognized were, of course, the three deities. The same accounts tell us that after this revelation was completed, Muhammad, his followers and the pagan Arabs all prostrated. Tensions eased, reconciliation was at hand, and all were delighted.

But Muhammad soon retracted the reconciliation—how soon is not clear. For the account continues that Jibril (Gabriel), the angel of revelation, informed Muhammad that Satan had used Muhammad's desire for reconciliation with the pagan leaders to insert into the revelation of God the verses about the interceding cranes, otherwise called "the satanic verses". The verses which follow, not the satanic verses, serve as the proper sequence to 53:19,20 (above):

Are yours the males and His the females?

That indeed were an unfair division! (53:21,22)

In other words: When you Arabs have sons (whom you prefer to daughters!), how unfair of you to say that God has daughters! The idea of a plurality of gods or goddesses or sons or daughters of God is ridiculous. God alone is God. The three goddesses are false.

Two other passages from the Qur'an are considered to have reference to the compromise between Muhammad and the Arabs, and Muhammad's eventual rejection of it. The first reads:

And they indeed strove to beguile thee (Muhammad) away from that wherewith We (God) have inspired thee, that thou shouldst invent other than it against Us; and then would they have accepted thee as a friend.

And if We had not made thee wholly firm thou mightest almost have inclined unto them a little.

Then had We made thee taste a double (punishment) of living and a double (punishment) of dying, then hadst thou found no helper against Us. (17:73-75)

The second passage is intended to comfort Muhammad:

Never sent We a messenger or a prophet before thee but when He recited (the message) Satan proposed (opposition) in respect of that which he recited thereof. But Allah abolisheth that which Satan proposeth. Then Allah establisheth His revelations. Allah is Knower, Wise;

That He may make that which the devil proposeth a temptation for those in whose hearts is a disease, and those whose hearts are hardened –Lo! the evil-doers are in open schism. (22:52,53)

On the basis of these verses especially, the contemporary designation "The Satanic Verses" arises.

It is not our intention here to defend Rushdie and his book. On the other hand, it is clear that Rushdie did not invent the satanic verses. Moreover, it would seem that Muslims of earlier generations were content to accept that satanic verses could somehow be insinuated into a prophet's message from God, even into the Qur'an, that God could abolish the satanic verses, and that, as the following passage suggests, God could replace even a verse of His own revelation with a similar or better verse of His own:

Such of Our revelations as We abrogate or cause to be forgotten, We bring (in place) one better or the like thereof. Knowest thou not that Allah is Able to do all things? (2:106 cf. 16:101)

In fact, Islamic theologians of earlier ages carefully sorted out which Quranic passages were abrogating and which were abrogated.

Today, many Muslims deny that God could abrogate or change His Word in any way or form. Ironically, they sometimes interpret Qur'an 2:106 (above) to mean that the Qur'an has abrogated the previous Scriptures of Moses and Jesus—despite the fact that the Qur'an clearly attests that these Scriptures also are the Word of God and therefore, presumably, unchangeable! How much more odious, then, to suggest that at least for a period of time satanic verses actually formed a part of the Qur'an! For many Muslims it is simply inconceivable that Muhammad, even under the severest pressures, would (perhaps even could) compromise with his Meccan enemies, and still more that Satan somehow could "whisper" his thoughts into the substance of God's holy Word, the Qur'an. That is why even the idea of satanic verses in the Qur'an shocks some Muslims.

But, to repeat, Rushdie did not originate the satanic verses. Nor did Jews, Christians or other non-Muslims. Our information about the satanic verses and the circumstances surrounding their revelation stems from the reputable Muslim accounts of at-Tabari and Ibn Sa'd. Muslims today who simply dismiss the account of these writers as fabricated and unhistorical must at least answer the question why such reputable persons would report it. The question is not new. But, it seems, a serious Muslim response is hard to find.

"The Religion of Peace?"

For everyone who thinks Islam is "just another religion", and that "Allah is simply another name for God", let this serve as your much-needed wake up call. Islam is not a religion at all, it is an ideology designed to enslave and control the congregant by bloody, violent means." - Obscene Demonic Ashura Cutting Ritual Exposes The Satanic Element Of Islam.

Islam wants only slaves

"Most Muslims do not realize that Islam allows no freedom. This alone should make them realize that it is Satan behind Islam, and not an eternal God. Satan wishes only to enslave Muslims to help him enslave the entire world. He does this by turning them away from the truth -- that salvation is yours already, if you only have faith in God's Son, Jesus. Islam is a religion based on intimidation and fear. The word "Islam" does not mean "peace." Muslims who tell you that the word "Islam" means "peace" are lying to you. The word "Islam" is an Arabic word. The word for peace in Arabic is "solh," and not Islam. Islam is derived from the root word "taslim," which means submission or surrender. A Muslim is not allowed to leave Islam or else risk his or her life. At birth, a person is branded either Muslim or non-Muslim depending on one's descent.

Among other things, the religion of Islam is a brain-washing religion like Christianity in fact, and that is why so many Muslims turn into crazy mindless zombies. The Muslims are required to pray 5 times a day in Arabic to a God who is not there, from the moment they embrace Islam; and when they do so they touch their head to the floor. That is one reason they get so brain-washed, this repetitive prayer. You can often spot fanatical Muslims by the marks on their foreheads resulting from this repetitive touching their head to the floor, where they may whack their head if they really get into it. As an example, take a look at the below image (and all others released) of Osama's Al Qaida second in command, Dr. Ayman al-Zawahiri, who always gives an anti-U.S. rant; Dr. Ayman has this tell-tale bruise on his forehead from too much head-whacking.

If you are a Muslim, and not praying the mandatory 5 times a day (in Arabic), which must be preceded by the ritual washing/ablution (Wudu) , according to Muhammad you are in great danger of going to hell. Muslims may be excused from observing the other pillars of Islam like fasting, almsgiving, pilgrimage to Mecca. But, no Muslim is ever excused from mandatory 5 times a day prayer.

In Christianity there is no compulsion or mandatory prayer. The Lord God has given Christians free will. Christians know they are to honor God every day, and not just on a Sunday. Muslims should count their "blessings". During Muhammad's fanciful mystical Night Journey to Heaven, Muhammad said that he was originally told by Allah to command his followers to pray fifty times daily, but later Allah revealed this to be too much of a burden. What Muhammad probably meant was he soon found out that even he couldn't keep up with fifty mandatory prayer sessions a day. So like many Sura's you'll see below, miraculously a Surah appeared to help Muhammad out in his personal life.

In Christianity, there is no such compulsion but they are not better. Yahweh wants heartfelt prayers. Not scripted prayers. Christians know enough to speak with God as their "Abba" (literally - daddy in Aramaic). Muslims typically never even think of one-on-one, two-way prayers to God. Muslim prayers resemble a "broadcast"; and no reply from their Allah is usually ever expected." (Extracted from History of Muhammad & Islam.

"One of the most embarrassing events in Muhammad's life occurred when Satan put his words in Muhammad's mouth. Muhammad spoke Satan's words as the word of God. This event is documented by several early Muslim scholars and referenced in the Hadith and Quran. Later Muslims, ashamed that their self declared prophet spoke Satan's words, denied the event occurred. A myriad of excuses and denials have been put forth by these later Muhammadans to cover up Muhammad's sinful error.

It must be pointed out again that the "Satanic Verses" event is not something made up by non-Muslims. The event is recorded by the earliest Islamic sources available on Muhammad's life. No one should think that it is a story made up by people who are critical of Islam. It is an episode directly found in the early Islamic records.

This topic is one of the most controversial in Islam. Satan caused Muhammad to recite his words as God's words. The background to this event is that Muhammad and his followers were being persecuted for attacking the pagan faiths of Mecca, and he did not want to further offend his Arab tribesmen, and, he wanted them to become his followers, i.e. Muslims. In fact Muhammad wished that God would not reveal anything further to him that would further alienate his fellow Arabs. So when opportunity arose, he spoke what Satan put into his heart and mind as God's word.

In the Old Testament (OT), if someone caused the people to worship other gods he was put to death - Deuteronomy 13:1 - 5:

"If prophets or those who divine by dreams appear among you and promise you omens or portents, and the omens or the portents declared by them take place, and they say, "Let us follow other gods" (whom you have not known) "and let us serve them," you must not heed the words of those prophets or those who divine by dreams; for the Lord your God is testing you, to know whether you indeed love the Lord your God with all your heart and soul. ... But those prophets or those who divine by dreams shall be put to death for having spoken treason against the Lord your God ... So you shall purge the evil from your midst."

This is exactly what Muhammad did - he advocated the worship of pagan deities as intercessors with God. Later, after Muhammad admitted his mistake and took back the words, he had the audacity to say that God made light of the event! God has never made light of sin or false prophets.

Think about it, which of the Old Testament prophets ever spoke the words of Satan? Those prophets loved their people, but they persisted in speaking the truth to them, not compromising the word of God to gain peace and converts as Muhammad did.

MUHAMMAD SPOKE THE SATANIC VERSES - THE EVIDENCE AND PROOF

Muslims frequently use the phrase "bring forth the proof". Well, the proof is presented here.

This event is documented by the four early biographical writers of Muhammad's life: Ibn Ishaq, Wakidi, Ibn Sa'd, and Tabari. The Hadith and Quran also contain direct references. Additionally several other Islamic scholars on Hadith (traditions) support the event's occurrence.

One Islamic book on Muhammad's life provides the following list:

"... many of the traditionalists have recorded it with reference to the chains of its narrators. Among them more commonly known are: al-Tabari, Ibn Abi Hatim, Ibn al-Mundhir, Ibn Mardauyah, Ibn Ishaq, Musa ibn 'Uqba, and Abu Ma'shar. It is all the more strange that Ibn Hajar, a recognized authority on traditions insists on the truth of this report and says, "As we have mentioned above, three of its chains of narrators satisfy the conditions requisite for an authentic report." I have found four of the early Islamic biographical sources for this story in English. Therefore, prior to a discussion and analysis of the event, their writings should be reviewed. What first follows are the four accounts related from the 4 early sources:

- 1) Tabari's "History", published by SUNY, and translated by Watt
- 2) the "Kitab al-Tabaqat al-Kabir", (The Book of the Major Classes), translated by S. Moinul Haq
- 3) the "Sirat Rasulallah" (The Life of Allah's Prophet) by Ibn Ishaq, translated by A. Guillaume
- 4) Wakidi's biographical material on Muhammad also includes the story of Muhammad speaking Satan's words. I have not been able to find Wakidi's entire work in English but Wakidi's work is quoted by W. Muir in "The Life of Mahomet"
- 5) A sub source from #3 above is found in "New Light on the Life of Muhammad", by A.. Guillaume This source is from a manuscript containing information from other sources as well as Ibn Ishaq. The writer of the manuscript, Yunus ibn Bukayr, heard Ibn Ishaq's lectures at Kufa (located in modern Iraq), and made notes.
- 6) Additional supporting evidence will be provided from the Sahih Hadith of Bukhari
- 7) Finally, verses from the Quran will be provided as concurring evidence that Muhammad spoke the Quranic verses"

Allah is Chaitan (Satan)

Muslims often content with Christians that the Qur'an is the "word of God" and that the bible cannot be trusted.

If you were Satan the enemy of God and all humanity, what would you do to confuse humanity in which the Word of God has already been given and what would you say?

You would do exactly what Islam is doing and saying. They claim that after God gave the Old & New Testament, there was a need for another book with contrary instructions to the ones God has already given. Let me ask you the reader a couple of questions:

What is a counterfeit?

Can person counterfeit money without knowing about the money they're counterfeiting?

This applies to Islam whose Qur'an came 600 years after the completion of the bible.

Saying the Qur'an it's true and the Bible its false it's an impossibility, because a counterfeit cannot exist without having first an original of what's been counterfeited.

Muslims will argue that men are more powerful than God and were able to corrupt his Word, thus God had to give a new Word (The Quran') which contradicts his original Word in teachings and in doctrine.

Not only the new so called "Word of God" contradicts His Old Word, but His "new prophet" (Mohammed) also contradicts all the prior prophets that came before him. He did so in holding a lower morality standard than those prophets mentioned in the Bible, by teaching contrary doctrine from those that came prior him, and by not prophesying as the prophets of the Bible did.

Muslims will argue that Mohammed did prophesied certain things that came to pass, so did the Illuminati card game. Is therefore the Illuminati card game a prophet of God?

How about Jean Dixon or Nostradamus?

When a person works with Satan knowingly or unknowingly, Satan can safely say tomorrow you will be hit by a blue car at 3:00 PM. What do you think will happen then?

Satan will orchestrate with his demons that particular event to occur and if the person is without God's protection, that's exactly how it will happen. This is the same concerning the Illuminati card game.

The Illuminati are a group of World elite in all branches of Government and entertainment. The same government and entertainment industry that pushes evolution, immorality, encourages homosexuality, and manipulates the population into throwing God out of their lives.

When the people react favorably with their agenda and throw God out of their nation, that nation becomes unprotected.

Now, they can tell you what's going to happen through movies, or by means such as the Illuminati card game, because all they have to do now is follow up by making their prediction happen over a nation or world that lacks the protection of the very God they rejected.

Case in point?

Satan has also his prophets and ministers.

(Matthew 24:24 KJV) – Reads:

For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

(2 Corinthians 11:13-15 KJV) – Reads:

For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

So who is really Allah?

Evidence shows that Lucifer who is Satan is really the Spirit behind Allah. Arabic speakers will argue that Allah is the Word for God in the Arabic language.

That may be true since most eastern countries throughout history have had and served many gods, the name for the one god chosen as to be the one true “God” happens to be the name of Satan as “Lucifer”.

The name Allah is derived from the Hebrew Chaldea word Halal which is the NAME OF SATAN in the scriptures in Isaiah 14.12, “How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer (HALAL), son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!”

Now, the word “Lucifer” means light bearer. Interesting enough the symbol for Islam is the Moon and the star.

The moon it’s a light bearer, meaning it does not have its own light but carries the light of the sun. Technically the moon it’s a “Lucifer”.

Is there any wonder why Allah throughout history has been associated with the moon god?

What about the star?

Stars throughout the Old Testament have always been associated with angels. Lucifer is a fallen angel who swore 5 wills against God.

The star represents his fallen angelic nature and the 5 wills against God. The 5 wills of Lucifer (Satan) is also represented secretly by the 5 pillars of Islam. Pillars represent foundation, and Lucifer’s 5 wills are the foundations of how he is waging war against God and His people.

While the God of the bible does not force anyone to submit to him the god of Islam forces people to submit to him. Forcing people are the characteristics of Satan not God. The God of the Bible wants you to freely choose him; while the god of Islam will chop you head off if you don’t choose him. The God of the bible is clearly the God of choice while the God of Islam is the god of force.

I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live: (Deuteronomy 30:19 KJV)

Isn’t it a coincidence that witches who are unknowingly a branch of Satanism worship the god of force or “the force”?

Could it also be a coincidence that their symbol it’s also a crescent moon and a star?

This is a picture of Baphomet. Can you spot the crescent moon and the star?

Did you know that the Knight Templar Shriners who are an Illuminati branch of the Freemasons are pro Islamic and worship Baphomet which means Mohammed? If Islam is not Satanic, then why do we have satanic people, practices, hidden symbols, and meanings all connected in the mix of Islam?

Satan is counting on our ignorance and our unwillingness to search all things. That's why false religions keep the average person busy with works & rituals that they won't have enough time to do anything else. This is why non-believers are also kept busy with over 5000 cable TV channels and trash music and movies to keep you distracted and detached from reality.

This is why they're poisoning the air, the water and the food, to keep us sick from standing for the truth. This is why they're overwhelming us with more work and less money to survive with in order to worn you out , stress out your mind, and keep you worry on other things while they take over without your resistance.

Resist, but not with weapons. Resist by submitting to the true Loving God of the bible who gave us His Only begotten Son, so we don't have to perish. Resist by repenting and turning to Jesus Christ for your salvation. God will be faithful and just to watch over you in the day of trouble.

You have now been presented with the truth. The question is, what are you going to do with it?

David Myatt converted himself to the Islam. Why?

David Myatt (born 1950) – also known as Abdul-Aziz ibn Myatt – is British Muslim and a former neo-nazi.

Before his conversion to Islam in 1998, Myatt was the first leader of the British National Socialist Movement (NSM), and was identified by the British newspaper, The Observer, as the “ideological heavyweight” behind the violent neo-nazi group Combat 18 whose founder and leader, Charlie Sargent, was convicted, in 1998, of murder, sentenced to life imprisonment, with a recommendation that he serve at least 14 years in jail.

Following his conversion to Islam, Myatt dissociated himself from nationalism and racialism, and openly wrote and spoke about racism being unethical and dishonorable.

During his three-decade long involvement with neo-nazism, Myatt authored thousands of essays and pamphlets about National Socialism, in many of which he describes the Holocaust as “a hoax”. Following his conversion to Islam, he began writing about Islam, and so far has produced hundreds of articles, many of which advocate Islamic martyrdom operations, express support for Osama bin Laden, and the Taliban, and, in line with Al Qaida’s radical Islamist stance, support the killing of non-combatants. One of Myatt’s articles justifying suicide attacks was, for several years, on the Izz al-Din al-Qassam (the military wing) section of the Hamas website.

An April 2005 NATO workshop heard that Myatt had called on “all enemies of the Zionists to embrace the Jihad” against Jews and the United States. Political scientist Professor George Michael wrote that Myatt has “arguably done more than any other theorist to develop a synthesis of the extreme right and Islam.”

Myatt first came to public attention in 1999, a year after his conversion to Islam, when a pamphlet he wrote many years earlier, A Practical Guide to Aryan Revolution, described as a “detailed step-by-step guide for terrorist insurrection,” was said to have inspired David Copeland, who left nailbombs in areas frequented by London’s black, Asian, and gay communities. Three people died and 129 were injured in the explosions, several of them losing limbs.

Myatt was also, for many years, a member of the secret British paramilitary organization Column 88, which, it has been alleged, was part of the NATO “stay-behind” Gladio network, designed to conduct sabotage and assassinations in the events of a Soviet Invasion of Western Europe.

In addition to writing about Islam and National Socialism, Myatt has translated works by Sophocles, Sappho, Aeschylus, and Homer, and has written several collections of poems and some Occult horror stories.

It has been alleged that Myatt – using the pseudonym Anton Long – was and is the current Grand Master of the Order of Nine Angles, a Left Hand Path, or Black Magick, Occult group.

Personal life

Myatt grew up in East Africa, and later in the Far East, where he studied the martial arts. He moved to England in 1967 to complete his schooling, and began a degree in Physics but did not complete it, leaving his studies to focus on his political activism. He is reported to live in the Midlands and to have been married three times.

The British anti-fascist magazine Searchlight has written of him: “He does not have the appearance of a Nazi ideologue ... Sporting a long ginger beard, Barbour jacket, cords and a tweed flat cap, he resembles an eccentric country gentleman out for a Sunday ramble. But Myatt is anything but the country squire, for beneath this seemingly innocuous exterior is a man of extreme and calculated hatred.”

Political scientist Professor George Michael has written that Myatt is an “intriguing theorist,” with a reported IQ of 187, who has embarked over the years on a series of “Faustian quests.” He studied Taoism and spent time in a Buddhist and later a Christian monastery, and is alleged to have explored the occult, as well as Paganism and what Michael calls “quasi-Satanic” secret societies.

Political activism

Myatt joined Colin Jordan’s British Movement, a neo-Nazi group, in 1968, where he sometimes acted as Jordan’s bodyguard at meetings and rallies. From the 70s until the 90s, he remained involved with paramilitary and neo-Nazi organizations such as Column 88 and Combat 18, and was imprisoned twice for violent offenses in connection with his political activism.

Myatt was the founder and first leader of the National Socialist Movement, of which David Copeland was a member. He also co-founded the neo-Nazi organization the NDFM (National Democratic Freedom Movement) which was active in Leeds, England, in the early 1970s, and founded and led the neo-Nazi Reichsfolk group.

Michael writes that Myatt took over the leadership of Combat 18 in 1998, when Charlie Sargent, the previous leader, was jailed for murder.

Alleged influence on David Copeland

In 1997, a pamphlet Myatt had written called A Practical Guide to Aryan Revolution was posted on a website run out of British Columbia, Canada, by Bernard Klatt. The pamphlet included chapter titles such as “Assassination,” “Terror Bombing,” and “Racial War.” According to Michael Whine of the Board of Deputies of British Jews, “the contents provided a detailed step-by- step guide for terrorist insurrection with advice on assassination targets, rationale for bombing and sabotage campaigns, and rules of engagement.”

In February 1998, Detectives from Scotland Yard raided Myatt’s home in Worcestershire, arrested him, and removed his computers and files. The case against him – involving allegations of incitement to murder, conspiracy to murder and incitement to racial hatred – was dropped after a three year international investigation because the evidence supplied by the Canadian authorities was not enough to secure a conviction.

It was this pamphlet that, in 1999, allegedly influenced David Copeland, the London nailbomber – also a member of Myatt’s National Socialist Movement – who planted homemade bombs in Brixton, Brick Lane, and inside the Admiral Duncan pub on Old Compton Street in London, frequented by the black, Asian, and gay communities respectively. Friends John Light, Nick Moore, and Andrea Dykes and her unborn child died in the Admiral Duncan pub. Copeland told police he had been trying to spark a “racial war.”

According to the BBC’s Panorama program about Copeland broadcast in 2000, when Myatt was leader of the NSM, he called for “the creation of racial terror with bombs.” Myatt is also quoted by Searchlight as having stated that “the primary duty of all National Socialists is to change the world. National Socialism means revolution: the overthrow of the existing System and its replacement with a National-Socialist society. Revolution means struggle: it means war. It means certain tactics have to be employed, and a great revolutionary movement organized which is primarily composed of those prepared to fight, prepared to get their hands dirty and perhaps spill some blood”.

Order of the Nine Angles (ONA)

According to various sources, the Order of Nine Angles (ONA) was originally formed in England in the 1960s, with the merger of three neopagan temples called Camlad, The Noctulians, and Temple of the Sun. Following the original leader’s emigration to Australia, it has been alleged that Myatt took over the order and began writing the now publicly-available teachings of the ONA. The ONA now has associates, and groups, in the United States, Europe, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, South America, and Russia.

Author Nick Ryan has asserted that Anton Long, the author of the ONA’s public tracts, is a pseudonym of Myatt. This assertion is repeated by Nicholas Goodrick-Clarke, who claims that Myatt was the founder of the ONA and writer of most of the ONA documents. The allegation has also been repeated many times by the anti-fascist Searchlight organization.

Myatt has always denied such allegations about involvement with the ONA, and using the pseudonym Anton Long, and repeatedly challenged anyone to provide any evidence of such allegations. In addition, Myatt challenged two journalists – Nick Lowles (from Searchlight) and Nick Ryan – to a duel for repeating such allegations, a challenge which they both declined.

Conversion to Islam

David Myatt converted to Islam in 1998. He told writer George Michael that his decision to convert began when he took a job on a farm in England. He was working long hours in the fields and felt an affinity with nature, concluding that the sense of harmony he felt had not come about by chance. He told Michael that he was also impressed by the militancy of Islamist groups, and believed that he shared common enemies with Islam, namely “the capitalist-consumer West and international finance.”

Shortly after his conversion, some critics and observers suggested that Myatt’s conversion was insincere and “may be just a political ploy to advance his own failing anti-establishment agenda.”

Gerry Gable, from anti-fascist magazine Searchlight, said:

“Myatt is an ethereal character. He is a dangerous man who has twice been jailed for his violent right-wing activities and who openly asked for blood to be spilled in the quest for white Aryan domination. We believe... he remains a deeply intellectual subversive and is still one of the most hardline Nazi intellectuals in Britain today. Myatt believes in the disruption of existing societies as a prelude to the creation of a new more warrior-like Aryan society which he calls the Galactic Empire.”

Others, however, accepted his conversion as genuine, and – given Myatt’s voluminous writings in praise of Islam and his support for the Taliban and his acceptance by other Muslims – this acceptance of his conversion as genuine gradually became the general consensus.

The Numinous Way

In 2007 – as in some previous years – rumors began circulating that Myatt had abandoned Islam in favour of his own earlier philosophy, The Numinous Way, which he had allegedly, in the past few years, continued to develop.

However, Myatt himself has denied this, issuing several public statements in which he affirms that he is a Muslim. He has also continued, using his Muslim name of Abdul-Aziz, to write and publish Islamist articles, the most recent one being dated 15 Zul al-Qidah 1429 [November 2008] and entitled In Reply to John Hutton: Concerning the Infidel Invasion and Occupation of the Muslim land of Afghanistan.

According to one anonymous essay, The Numinous Way, as developed since 2006, is:

“A practical, and spiritual, way of living... providing answers to fundamental philosophical, and ethical, questions. The Numinous Way is apolitical. Empathy may be said to be the essence of The Numinous Way – empathy with life, with Nature; with other human beings; with the very Cosmos itself. From empathy arises compassion – the desire to cease to cause suffering, the desire to alleviate suffering – and honour is how we can do this, how we can restrain ourselves and so do the right, the moral, the empathic, thing.”

According to Myatt himself, writing as Abd al-Aziz:

“Over then years ago, I converted to Islam and, despite past and present rumours and disinformation, I am still a Muslim, Alhamdulillah, and I shall remain a Muslim, InshaAllah.

As for my own political views and opinions now, I have none. For I am a Muslim, and so view this world, and its peoples, according to Deen Al-Islam, striving to think according to Deen Al-Islam, and striving to live according to the laws and customs of Islam, as revealed in the Quran and through the words, deeds and example of the noble Prophet Muhammad (salla Allahu ‘alayhi wa sallam). My only loyalty and obedience is to Allah Subhanahu wa Ta’ala.

As a Muslim, I regard the Way of Al-Islam as complete and perfect, and superior to the materialistic, arrogant, way of life which now dominates all the societies of the West. Thus, I reject nationalism, racialism, the kaffir-manufactured concept of “the State”, and all the other Tawagheet of the kuffar.”

Conclusion:

The evidence proves that Muhammad spoke the Satanic verses. The four early biographers of Muhammad's life detail the story. Many traditions (Hadith) also establish it. There are references to it in the Sahih Hadith. Finally, there are specific references to it in the Quran. No one, with an open mind and honest heart, can doubt the event. It may make Muslims uncomfortable that Satan used their prophet, but in the least they should be forthright and honest about it and admit it to themselves. If they wish to follow a man who spoke Satan's words, that is their business.

Muhammad had a strange relationship with Satan. Was it really Gabriel choking Muhammad in the cave?

How many other words were influenced by Satan? Why would God make light of a prophet speaking Satan's words as God's?

Didn't God command in the Old Testament that false prophets should be put to death?

Didn't Jesus predict that false prophets would come and mislead many? (Matthew 24:11).

Muhammad had a deal with the devil. Satan led, he followed. If Muhammad began to get off course, Muhammad was corrected. Islam's denial of Christ's identity, is Satan's stronghold upon millions of people. Muslims follow one of the false prophets Jesus foretold.

One Christian writer addressing this question asked:

"Muslims today who simply dismiss the account of these writers as fabricated and unhistorical must at least answer the question why such reputable persons would fabricate it. The question is not new. But, it seems, a serious Muslim response is hard to find."

True Satanism is found in Islam, not in Western Satanic Philosophies

Could the Koran itself be a source of the Satanic problem????

SOME QUOTES FROM THE KORAN PROVING THAT TERROR IS WITHIN.

THE KORAN IS A TERROR DOCUMENT. A MURDER BIBLE.

(Quran 5:33): The Punishment for those who oppose Allah and his messenger is: Execution or Crucifixion or the cutting off of hands and feet from opposite sides or exile from the land.

(Quran 9:5): Then when the sacred months have passed, slay the idolaters wherever ye find them, and take them (captive), and besiege them, and prepare for them each ambush.

(Quran 8:12): Remember Thy Lord inspired the angels (with the message): "I am with you: give firmness to the believers, I will instill terror into the hearts of the unbelievers, Smite ye above their necks and smite all their finger tips of them."

"And fight with them until there is no persecution, and religion should be only for Allah 2:193.

(Quran 76: 4): Lo! We have prepared for disbelievers chains, yokes and a blazing fire.

(Quran 47:4): When you meet the disbelievers in the Jihad strike off their heads and, when you have laid them low, bind your captives firmly.

When your Lord revealed to the angels; I am with you, therefore make firm those who believe. I WILL CAST TERROR INTO THE HEARTS OF THOSE WHO DISBELIEVE. THEREFORE STRIKE OFF THEIR HEADS AND STRIKE OFF EVERY FINGERTIP OF THEM. THIS IS BECAUSE THEY ACTED ADVERSELY TO ALLAH AND HIS MESSENGER; AND WHOEVER ACTS ADVERSELY TO ALLAH AND HIS MESSENGER - THEN SURELY ALLAH IS SEVERE IN REQUITING (EVIL). THIS - TASTE IT, AND (KNOW) THAT FOR THE UNBELIEVERS IS THE PUNISHMENT OF FIRE. 8:12-14 O YOU WHO BELIEVE! DO NOT TAKE THE JEWS AND THE CHRISTIANS FOR FRIENDS; THEY ARE FRIENDS OF EACH OTHER; AND WHOEVER AMONGST YOU TAKES THEM FOR A FRIEND, THEN SURELY HE IS ONE OF THEM; SURELY ALLAH DOES NOT GUIDE THE UNJUST PEOPLE. (5:49-51)

THEY DESIRE THAT YOU SHOULD DISBELIEVE AS THEY HAVE DISBELIEVED, SO THAT YOU MIGHT BE ALL ALIKE; THEREFORE TAKE NOT FROM AMONG THEM FRIENDS UNTIL THEY FLY THEIR HOMES IN ALLAH'S WAY; BUT IF THEY TURN

BACK, THEN SEIZE THEM AND KILL THEM WHEREVER YOU FIND THEM, AND TAKE NOT FROM AMONG THEM A FRIEND OR A HELPER. (4:89)

(6.60) We have ordained death among you and We are not to be overcome, (33.61] Cursed: wherever they are found they shall be seized and murdered, a (horrible) murdering.

(9.29) Fight those who do not believe in Allah, nor in the latter day, nor do they prohibit what Allah and His Apostle have prohibited, nor follow the religion of truth, out of those who have been given the Book, until they pay the tax in acknowledgment of superiority and they are in a state of subjection.

[9.30] And the Jews say: Uzair is the son of Allah; and the Christians say: The Messiah is the son of Allah; these are the words of their mouths; they imitate the saying of those who disbelieved before; may Allah destroy them; how they are turned away!

(Quran 9: 123): O ye who believe! Fight those of the disbelievers who are near to you and let them find harshness in you and know that Allah is with those who keep their duty (unto Him).

(Quran 9.73) O Prophet! strive hard against the unbelievers and the hypocrites and be unyielding to them; and their abode is hell, and evil is the destination.

(2.88) And they say: Our hearts are covered. Nay, Allah has cursed them on account of their unbelief; so little it is that they believe.

(2.89) And when there came to them a Book from Allah verifying that which they have, and aforetime they used to pray for victory against those who disbelieve, but when there came to them (Prophet) that which they did not recognize, they disbelieved in him; so Allah's curse is on the unbelievers.

[2.90] Evil is that for which they have sold their souls-- that they should deny what Allah has revealed, out of envy that Allah should send down of His grace on whomsoever of His servants He pleases; so they have made themselves deserving of wrath upon wrath, and there is a disgraceful punishment for the unbelievers.

[2.191] And kill them wherever you find them, and drive them out from whence they drove you out, and persecution is severer than slaughter, and do not fight with them at the Sacred Mosque until they fight with you in it, but if they do fight you, then slay them; such is the recompense of the unbelievers.

(8.67) It is not fit for a prophet that he should take captives unless he has fought and triumphed in the land; you desire the frail goods of this world, while Allah desires (for you) the hereafter; and Allah is Mighty, Wise.

(25.36) Then We said: Go you both to the people who rejected Our communications; so We destroyed them with utter destruction.

(18.100) And We will bring forth hell, exposed to view, on that day before the unbelievers.

[18.101] They whose eyes were under a cover from My reminder and they could not even hear.

[18.102] What! do then those who disbelieve think that they can take My servants to be guardians besides Me? Surely We have prepared hell for the entertainment of the unbelievers.

Allah and His Messenger are free from liability to the idolaters; therefore if you repent, it will be better for you, and if you turn back, then know that you will not weaken Allah; AND ANNOUNCE PAINFUL PUNISHMENT TO THOSE WHO DISBELIEVE (9:3)

When the sacred months have passed away, THEN SLAY THE IDOLATERS WHEREVER YOU FIND THEM, AND TAKE THEM CAPTIVES AND BESIEGE THEM AND LIE IN WAIT FOR THEM IN EVERY AMBUSH, then if they repent and keep up prayer [become believers] and pay the poor-rate, leave their way free to them (9:5)

And this is just a sampling of the Koran!

The HADITH are also considered holy accounts of the prophet. I won't list all the hateful passages as there are sooooo many.

Allah 's Apostle said, " I have been ordered to fight with the people till they say, 'None has the right to be worshipped but Allah,' and whoever says, None has the right to be worshipped but Allah,' his life and property will be saved by me except for Islamic law, and his accounts will be with Allah, (either to punish him or to forgive him.)" (Hadiths 4:52:196)

The Hadiths are full of the glorification of beheading captives, killing old men, pillaging and having sex with whomever Mohammed fancied such as a 9 year old girl.

It is full of hatred and vile uncivilized acts praised by muslims.

There are too many to list here.

There is page after page of this evil Of course, you may buy the revisionist lies that it is all taken out of context and ignore the motivations of people that want to see you subdued, enslaved and dead.

You may pretend that it isn't the true nature of Islam.

You may pretend that the Muslims never lie as a way to consolidate themselves until they can attack from strength.

You may pretend Islam doesn't have a hectoring and supremacist tone.

You may pretend it isn't a wolf in sheep's clothing.

You will be wrong and current events are proving it.

If you really persist in reading the passages of hatred in the Koran and then say it is a religion of peace, you are a dhimmi, which means you have become subservient to the Muslim hordes.

You would declare the sky to be green if they said it was.

Politicos all over the world say the empty hollow words that Islam means peace.

Let's call a spade a spade and outline exactly what the attributes are.

ISLAM is EXPANSIONIST WE DECLARE OURSELVES TO BE CLEAR OF YOU, AND ENMITY AND HATRED HAVE APPEARED BETWEEN US AND YOU FOREVER UNTIL YOU BELIEVE IN ALLAH ALONE (60:2-4)

They aspire to conquer the world. Fair enough, but they deny this expansionist ambition. This is due to Taqqiya, where non-Muslims are misled and laughed about for not understanding their true intentions.

Taqqiya is the belief and doctrine that it is okay for Muslims to lie in the service of Islam. So it is that Islamist constantly lie to non-Muslims about their intentions and true belief.

They may support terror as a weapon to propagate Islam, but they will always deny it.

(33.48) And be not compliant to the unbelievers and the hypocrites, and leave un-regarded their annoying talk, and rely on Allah; and Allah is sufficient as a Protector.

Takiya or al-taqqiya or however you want to spell it is simply LYING. It is something Muslims habitually do.

The word 'al-Taqqiya' literally means: 'Concealing or disguising one's beliefs, convictions, ideas, feelings, opinions, and/or strategies at a time of eminent danger, whether now or later in time, to save oneself from physical and/or mental injury.' " A one-word translation would be 'Dissimulation.' " (www.al-islam.org/encyclopedia/chapter6b/1.html)

Al-Taqqiya, from the verb Ittaqu, means linguistically dodge the threat. Politically it means simulate whatever status you need in order to win the war against the enemy."

"According to Al-Taqqiya, Muslims were granted the Shar'iyah (legitimacy) to infiltrate the Dar el-Harb (war zone), infiltrate the enemy's cities and forums and plant the seeds of discord and sedition."

This is part of the Muslim strategy for taking over the West.

Like cancer cells, Muslim parasites feed off the host nation until it is completely dysfunctional (e.g. through political correctness).

So easily some forget. Or they just don't care. They think, o', everything fixes itself. NOT.

Islam started as a conquering kind of Arab imperialism. They never sent out missionaries from Mecca to demonstrate a better way to other people, nor appeal to their better natures. They sent out marauding pillaging armies that slaughtered most and ordered the rest to convert or die.

They tell you Islam means peace, but it doesn't at all. Salaam is the word for peace. Islam means submission, which in turn means 'Do as we say or else'.

Muslim areas of the world are called Dar-el-salaam as area of peace, whereas non-Muslim areas are called 'areas of war'. This is why jihad can occur in any non-Muslim area. Civilians are considered combatants in the non Muslim areas which are called Dar-al-Harb, and are allowed to be slaughtered..

Basically, they have an undeclared war against non Muslims and deny it when challenged.

Muslims in every place such as southern Thailand are committing atrocities whilst claiming Islam is a religion of peace. Peace of the beheaded maybe. Wherever there are Muslims, there are killing clubs called jihadists. They will use any excuse such as the Iraq war, but the simple reason is that they hate non-Muslims and want to kill them.

Remember when the Taliban blew up the giant Buddha's? They hate even the most peaceful religion and want to destroy anything that reminds them of it.

Wherever the muslims gain power, they build mosques on the sites that were important to the defeated population. This is what they did in Jerusalem on the site of the Jewish temple, and they tried to do it in the Acropolis of Greece. Only an enraged Greek populace that were able to expel them forever stopped these intolerant invading marauders there at least.

All around the world, wherever there are Muslims, there are killers, groups of angry hateful Muslims agitating for more of everything, greedy for more land or rights and denying them to others.

Look at the vast Islamic lands in the middle east, but what irks them is the little sliver of land called Israel. They want it.

The British hero, Winston Churchill was aware of the danger posed by Mohammedanism.

The influence of the religion paralyses the social development of those who follow it. No stronger retrograde force exists in the world. Far from being moribund, Mohammedanism is a militant and proselytizing faith. It has already spread throughout Central Africa, raising fearless warriors at every step; and were it not that Christianity is sheltered in the strong arms of science - the science against which it had vainly struggled - the civilization of modern Europe might fall, as fell the civilization of ancient Rome.

Winston Churchill The River War (1899)

It is somewhat ironic that these fervent Muslims flock to the West in their millions, not for the weather or something but to make full use of the benefits of being paid to have children and the free education, hospitals and welfare systems that were set up by Christians.

All these benefits seem to be lacking in their ideal Muslim societies.

ISLAM is EXCLUSIONIST

They celebrate the death of anyone that is not a Muslim and bewail Muslim deaths only.

But only Muslim deaths that are believed to be caused by non-Muslims. They constantly rail about the Iraq situation and how coalition forces have caused civilian deaths, yet conveniently ignore the fact that Islamist are deliberately targeting civilians every day with bombs.

They whine about Muslims on the west bank being shot for having tried to launch rockets or something because they were shot by Jews yet conveniently ignore the thousands of deaths in Algeria where Islamist kill other Muslims on a much greater scale.

This selective approach to injustice shows that they are deliberately generating a sense of grievance and injustice because they are a hate filled and fractious group.

They create no go areas around their mosques. The wail and screech of the Muslim call to prayer five times a day from before dawn to late at night makes any non Muslims move. It is not integration. It is ETHNIC CLEANSING.

Islam excludes all other religions. It hates them. Witness the Taliban blowing the historic giant Buddha statues at Bamyan. All the Buddhists in the area had been killed and enslaved to Islam centuries ago, but they still continue with their extermination of all trace of the native beliefs.

Muslim areas in the west are characterized by higher than normal filthy areas where rats breed. Often householders just dump their rubbish in the back alleys despite a collection service. Muslim youth are infamous throughout Europe as credit card fraudsters, sources of heroin and car thieves. Muslim youth tend to target indigenous people's businesses such as pubs and bookmakers and other non Islamic business to drive them out of Muslim areas. Single women are often raped or robbed.

It is not integration.

It is ETHNIC CLEANSING.

Wherever Muslims breed, they assail other faiths and religions making more demands. The church doors in places like Bethlehem are given a folksy spin as to the reasons why they are so small.

One explanation is that you have to bow as you enter the place of worship. But the real reasons that the doors were made smaller was to stop the Muslims on horses riding into the churches and having them defecate on the floor and other desecrations.

The Muslims scream if they think a Koran has been badly treated. This is their ultimate exclusion. A book is worth more than the life of a non-Muslim. They supposedly respect the Bible yet when terrorists used them as toilet paper in the church of the Nativity, there was no outcry there.

And today, if the Saudis find a bible, they desecrate and destroy it. Christian Filipino workers are imprisoned if they catch them praying and often flogged and killed on slight pretexts. Islamic religious police beat anyone they suspect of not adhering to Islamic laws.

A common response by Muslims to questions about religious hatred in Islam is to suggest the Crusades.

Well the crusades didn't arise from nothing but were a response to the cruelty and depredations that Muslims inflicted upon pilgrims of other faiths. There are accounts of this in historical documents before any crusade had taken place. The Pope asked for a crusade as a response to Islamic terror.

If you care to research the pilgrim accounts of the time, you will find the pilgrims being preyed upon by the Mohammedans. The revisionist historians claim it was a time that all faiths lived in peace, but it wasn't.

Non-Muslims were subject to jizrah, a special and crippling tax and were like Jews in Nazi Germany, subject to abuse and slavery.

And neither is whining about crusades a real defense. It's as if I ask you why you like to kill people and you scream about my great (say two hundred times) grandfather who may have hurt someone.

ISLAM is RACIST

They teach their children race hate.

Madrassahs and Muslim controlled schools glorify death and teach new generations to follow this path.

Islam is clearly anti-Semitic and racist against the Jews. They scream about the Palestinian right of return, but how about the right of return for Jews to all the places they were murdered or driven from. Places in every Islamic country. Places like Iraq or Saudi Arabia where Medina used to be the Jewish city of Yathrib.

There has been a muslim genocide against the Jews and black Africans for centuries.

On December 30, 1066, Joseph HaNagid, the Jewish vizier of Granada, Spain, was crucified by an Arab mob that proceeded to raze the Jewish quarter of the city and slaughter its 5,000 inhabitants. The riot was incited by Muslim preachers who had angrily objected to what they saw as inordinate Jewish political power.

Similarly, in 1465, Arab mobs in Fez slaughtered thousands of Jews, leaving only 11 alive, after a Jewish deputy vizier treated a Muslim woman in "an offensive manner." The killings touched off a wave of similar massacres throughout Morocco.

Other mass murders of Jews in Arab lands occurred in Morocco in the 8th century, where whole communities were wiped out by the Muslim ruler Idris I; North Africa in the 12th century, where the Almohads either forcibly converted or decimated several communities; Libya in 1785, where Ali Burzi Pasha murdered hundreds of Jews; Algiers, where Jews were massacred in 1805, 1815 and 1830; and Marrakesh, Morocco, where more than 300 hundred Jews were murdered between 1864 and 1880.

Decrees ordering the destruction of synagogues were enacted in Egypt and Syria (1014, 1293-4, 1301-2), Iraq (854/859, 1344) and Yemen (1676). Despite the Koran's prohibition, Jews were forced to convert to Islam or face death in Yemen (1165 and 1678), Morocco (1275, 1465 and 1790-92) and Baghdad (1333 and 1344).

The situation of Jews in Arab lands reached a low point in the 19th century. Jews in most of North Africa (including Algeria, Tunisia, Egypt, Libya and Morocco) were forced to live in ghettos.

And it's not just Jews who are suffering racial slurs and worse as the Islamic gangs show who are currently driving black Africans out of their homeland Darfur. The real reason is that oil has been discovered there and the Arab Muslims of Sudan want all claim to it.

Arab Muslims hate blacks anyway.

Racism is found in the Koran whereby white faces will be saved and black faces will be damned. Remember that Arabs consider themselves white.

(3.106) On the day when (some) faces shall turn white and (some) faces shall turn black; then as to those whose faces turn black: Did you disbelieve after your believing? Taste therefore the chastisement because you disbelieved.

(3.107) And as to those whose faces turn white, they shall be in Allah's mercy; in it they shall-abide.

Muhammad's antipathy to black people is also in the hadith where he calls them 'raisin heads'.(1:662; 9:256).

Mohammed also kept black people as slaves.

"a black slave of Allah's Apostle was sitting on the first step" (6:435).

Muslim propagandists often try to recruit black people to their cult by saying Muhammad was black, but there are numerous references to his white skin in the Hadiths. No big deal, but it is typical of how Muslims will lie for their cause.

They covet influence with black people by claiming that Islam is the black man's religion and that Muhammad was black, but they lie to convert. The true feelings of Muslims about black people are seen in the genocide of Darfur.

ISLAM is SUPREMACIST

(9.33) He it is Who sent His Apostle with guidance and the religion of truth, that He might cause it to prevail over all religions.

"And fight with them until there is no persecution, and religion should be only for Allah" Q.2:193 And if they intend to act unfaithfully towards you, so indeed they acted unfaithfully towards Allah before, but He GAVE YOU MASTERY OVER THEM (8:71)

Surely the vilest of animals in Allah's sight are those who disbelieve (8:55)

That jaunty little cap known as the Fez celebrates and commemorates the slaughter of 100000 captives at Fez.

They killed women and children and then dipped their hats in the rivers of blood to celebrate. This is Islamic mercy and peace.

Islam is all about enslaving yourself and then enslaving others.

Q) Where today in the world, are slave markets perpetuated?

A) Only in Muslim controlled lands.

Slavery is based on supremacist thinking that says one person is better than another.

Slavery was practiced by Romans and other peoples in the ancient world, but only Muslims have continued it into modern times.

Africa, long a source for slaves and cheap labor was made so by muslim armies from the north that established slave routes and markets. Whilst there were slaves shipped to the United States, it wasn't the case that the captains simply jumped off a ship and rounded up people. They took advantage of the slave markets that had already been established by Muslim traders. Today there is still a trade in slaves in parts of Africa and Arabia.

Muslims from the north trade non-Muslims from the south.

But worst of all, is that Muslims consider non-Muslims to be only worthy of slaughter and they hate ex-Muslims so much, they kill them if possible. In the Hadiths, Muhammad says to kill anyone that leaves Islam and not to punish anyone for doing so.

Here below, is just one account of religious intolerance by Muslims in Yorkshire, England, a land tolerant enough to let Muslims in, or rather the wolf into the chicken house.

This is a typical story from the heart of a multi-faith and supposed multicultural paradise.

From 'The Times' of London.

Britain today, a home for religious fascism.

February 05, 2005 Muslim apostates cast out and at risk from faith and family by ANTHONY BROWNE While Christians who turn to Islam are feted, the 200,000 Muslims who turn away are faced with abuse, violence and even murder THE first brick was thrown through the sitting room window at one in the morning, waking Nissar Hussein, his wife and five children with a terrifying start. The second brick went through his car window.

It was a shock, but hardly a surprise. The week before, another brick had been thrown through the window as the family were preparing for bed in their Bradford home. The victim of a three-year campaign of religious hatred, Mr. Hussein's car has also been rammed and torched, and the steps to his home have been strewn with rubbish. He and his family have been regularly jostled, abused, attacked. shouted at to move out of the area, and given death threats in the street. His wife has been held hostage inside their home for two hours by a mob. His car, walls and windows have been daubed in graffiti: "Christian bastard".

The problem isn't so much what Mr. Hussein, whose parents came from Pakistan, believes, but what he doesn't believe. Born into Islam, he converted eight years ago to Christianity, and his wife. also from Pakistan, followed suit.

While those who convert to Islam, such as Cat Stevens, Jem irna Khan, and the sons of the Frank Dobson, the former Health Secretary, and Lord Birt, the former BBC Director-General, can publicly celebrate their new religion, those whose faith goes in the other direction face persecution. Mr. Hussein, a 39-year-old hospital nurse in Bradford, is one of a growing number of former Muslims in Britain who face not just being shunned by family and community, but attacked, kidnapped, and in some cases killed. There is even a secret underground network to support and protect those who leave Islam. One estimate suggests that as many as 15 per cent of Muslims in Western societies have lost their faith, which would mean that in Britain there are about 200,000 apostates.

For police, religious authorities and politicians, it is an issue so sensitive that they are accused by victims of refusing to respond to appeals for help. It is a problem that, with the crisis of identity in Islam since September 11, seems to be getting worse as Muslims feel more threatened.

Muslims who lose their faith face execution or imprisonment, in line with traditional Muslim teaching, in many Islamic countries, including Saudi Arabia, Pakistan, Egypt and Yemen. In the Netherlands, the former Muslim MP Ayan Hirsi Ali had to go into hiding after renouncing her faith on television.

The Prince of Wales recently held a meeting with religious leaders to consider ways to stop former Muslims being persecuted in other countries, but Britain itself is also affected.

Mr. Hussein told The Times: "It's been absolutely appalling. This is England - where I was born and raised. You would never imagine Christians would suffer in such a way."

The police have not charged anyone, but told him to leave the area. "We feel completely isolated, utterly helpless.

I have been utterly failed by the authorities. If it was white racists attacking an Asian guy, there would be an absolute outcry," he said. "They are trying to ethnically cleanse me out of my home. I feel I have to make a stand as an Asian Christian."

Yasmin, who was raised in the North of England, has been forced out of her town once, and is now trying to resist being chased out again. Brought up in a Muslim family, she converted after having a vision of Jesus when she gave birth to her youngest son, and was baptized in her thirties. "My family completely disowned me. They thought I had committed the biggest sin - I was born a Muslim, and so I must die a Muslim. When my husband found out, he totally disowned my sons. One friend tried to strangle me when I told him I was converting," she said.

"We had bricks through our windows. I was spat at in the street because they thought I was dishonoring Islam.

We had to call the police so many times. I had to go to court to get an injunction against my husband because he was inciting others to attack me."

She fled to another part of Britain, but the attacks soon started again as locals found out about her. "I wasn't going to leave again." she said, adding that it was the double standards of her attackers that made her most angry. "They are such hypocrites - they want us to be tolerant of everything they want, but they are intolerant of everything about us."

With stories like these from the heart of a supposed civilized society, you can see how much worse it is for others in third world countries.

There are reports every day of persecution and attacks of Hindus, Buddhist Tamils and Thais, and of course Christians and Copts who are not allowed to freely and peacefully live their lives but are constantly assailed and threatened.

ISLAM IS A CULT NOT A RELIGION

Religions encourage a personal relationship with God and seek to increase understanding.

Islam insists only on absolute slavery.

Can children that repeat the Koran over and over and over again be really said to be getting wisdom?

No they are simply being brainwashed to the point where they cannot think or dare to criticize or simply question many of the contentious issues. They have spent their lives learning a book that they are not then about to reform or even question but simply parrot passages.

Think about the attributes of a cult.

1. A leader (dead or alive) who is considered absolutely infallible.
2. Proscribed food and dress. Everyone must adhere to the standard.
3. Repetitive and frequent sessions to reinforce behavior.
4. Violent and often brutal treatment of backsliders or people that wish to leave.

5. A cult tells you what God is like. No individual contact with God.
6. Regulation of every aspect of the day. From dawn to dusk.
7. The leader often breaks his own rules set for the others.
8. Outsiders are demonized and cult members are discouraged from contact or friendship with people outside the cult.
9. Cults are never tolerant.
10. Obsessive ways of doing things are a hallmark of a cult.
11. Emulation of the leader.
12. Absolute certainty that they are right. No doubt is allowed or encouraged.

Think about what a cult is, and then apply these characteristics to any religion you wish.

How many out of these twelve match?

Now apply the above cultic traits with Islam.

1. Mohammed was beyond criticism. Even when he took a six year old girl as a wife and had sex with her at nine years old, as soon as he could.
2. Food and dress is rigorously regulated. It is a form of control to insist that followers can only eat this or at certain times and must dress a certain way.
3. The daily regime of stopping work, whatever to bow to Mecca five times and say repetitive prayers is reinforcing behavior.
4. People who leave Islam are supposed to be killed. People who transgress Islamic rules about showing a female arm or ankle are whipped in the street as the Taliban did and Saudi religious police still do.
5. No Muslims are allowed to talk to God themselves. They are told how God is. Only the top guy is allowed to have had divine contact and they then limit God's ability to talk to anyone else.

6. The whole day is full of prayers and all behaviour from eating to washing to going to the toilet has rules.

7. Mohammed frequently broke his own rules saying it was okay for him. For instance, he said no man can have more than four wives but he himself had eleven.

8. The Koran is full of exhortations like 'show harshness to unbelievers' or to 'take not Jews or Christians for friends'.

9. The barbarity of Islamic terrorists is obvious.

10. Saying 'peace be upon him' every time they mention Muhammad's name is an example of cultic obsession.

11. Emulation of Muhammad extends to dressing, defecating and sleeping as they think he did. Muhammad didn't use chairs, so many Muslims sit on the floor to eat. Of course, this is all selective snobbery. Mohammed didn't read, didn't drive a car or use a mobile phone too but no-one seems keen to copy this.

12. There is no encouragement of questioning or consideration in Islam. Religions usually have a path of learning and being wrong and maturity. Even Jesus had doubts. Muslims aren't allowed to entertain 'what if' notions.

One of the worst things though about a cult, is that it stifles original thinking. This is why the Islamic have never invented anything.

Despite revisionist history, the Muslims had a barbaric civilization of slavery and cruelty. The occasional fountain and palace were enjoyed by only the very few. Books of Greek learning were translated into Arabic by Christians in Lebanon. So it was that they had books by Ptolemy and Aristotle and Galen on Medicine, Algebra, Geometry. But they never added any new knowledge or improved upon it. A handful of Greeks invented more in a few years than billions of Muslims ever did in centuries.

The Muslims destroyed any books that they didn't like the sound of, so it is that Plato and political discussions did not get wide translation. Only books on mathematics and medicine that didn't seem to contradict the Koran were taken up. Meanwhile, the Muslim hordes destroyed vast libraries in monasteries and towns all over the place.

The most notorious one was the famed library at Alexandria where the Caliph famously said to burn them in case they contradict the Koran. Below is the historical account.

The Moslems invaded Egypt during the seventh century as their fanaticism carried them on conquests that would take form an empire stretching from Spain to India. However, when a Christian called John informed the local Arab general that there existed in Alexandria a great Library preserving all the knowledge in the world he was perturbed. Eventually he sent word to Damascus where Caliph Omar ordered that all the books in the library should be destroyed because, as he said "they will either contradict the Koran, in which case they are heresy, or they will agree with it, so they are superfluous." Therefore, the books and scrolls were taken out of the library and distributed as fuel to the many bathhouses of the city. So enormous was the volume of literature that it took six months for it all to be burnt to ashes heating the saunas of the conquerors.

And this destruction of learning goes on today. The Bedouin that found the Dead Sea scrolls were using them for fire kindling until someone in the market heard about the find and rescued what was left.

When Turkish troops invaded North Cyprus in the 1970's, the muslims took great delight in destroying old manuscripts stored in the churches and monasteries there.

And of course, we have the hateful mobs of Muslims that gathered to burn the books of Salmon Rushdie because they didn't like something he wrote and wanted to kill him. Hmm, yet another similarity to Nazis.

It is this cultic suppression of individual and original thoughts which shows why no born Muslims have won a Nobel prize for a scientific advance. There have been a couple of converts in chemistry and medicine that have won a recent prize, but compared to the dozens and dozens of say Jewish Nobel prize winners, the contrast is startling.

And how could they, when Madrassahs teach mostly simply the reciting of the Koran? Days and years are spent in repetition and chanting over the Koran, whilst nothing is spent developing an individual or unique view.

Here is Churchill again from 1899 commenting on the cultic fanaticism of this cult.

Churchill, W The River War 1899

"How dreadful are the curses which Mohammedanism lays on its votaries! Besides the fanatical frenzy, which is as dangerous in a man as hydrophobia in a dog, there is this fearful fatalistic apathy. Improvident habits, slovenly systems of agriculture, sluggish methods of commerce, and insecurity of property exist wherever the followers of the Prophet rule or live. A degraded sensualist deprives this life of its grace and refinement; the next of its dignity and sanctity. The fact that in Mohammedan law every woman must belong to some man as his absolute property - either as a child, a wife, or a concubine - must delay the final extinction of slavery until the faith of Islam has ceased to be a great power among men.

Part of the problem with Islam is that there are few people willing to counter the cult's arguments and say their ridiculous beliefs and science and conspiracy theories are rubbish. Non-Muslims don't really know what stuff they believe and many do not speak out in the name of political correctness or multicultural respect. Yet the Madrassahs churn out millions of unscientific, un-rational supremacists that can't change. As the Jesuits used to say, 'Give me a boy until seven, and I'll show you the man.' Another revisionist history has the Moors conquest of Spain as also being a golden era. But if this were really true, then how come the Spanish fought so hard to kick the Moors out? It is a myth that a few fountains and gardens somehow made a civilization out of what was a barbarous, cruel and evil regime.

The Romans in Spain built much more substantial aqueducts and fountains, centuries before the Muslims employed locals to build the Alhambra gardens.

Muslims have never been able to invent anything really useful. Partly this is because the schools concentrate on learning the Koran word by word rather than true inquiries into nature, politics or anything. They are taught not to question but to submit, to be a slave to Allah. They simply parrot the Koran over and over and over again, rather than cultivate any spirit of enquiry. It is brainwashing. This is why Islamic societies always decline rather than improve.

So it was that when the Ottoman Turks needed to repair St Sophia, they had to import Armenian Christian craftsmen to do it. Just look at the numbers of Nobel prize winners. Compare what billions of Muslims have been able to come up with against say a small number of Jewish intelligentsia, a fraction of one percent of the Muslim population and the gulf between the ignorant backward culture of Mohammedanism and other faith based cultures is obvious.

The reason that Muslims are able to spread is that they use devious stratagems. They lie for their religion constantly pretending peace as a way to divide and conquer. This is known as al-taqiya and is a legitimate form of war for muslims. This Takkiya is a deception that Muslims use constantly in the west to achieve their real aims of Islamic power.

Another reason is that far from being a religion, they are really a highly motivated cult. Define a cult and you will be defining the traits of Mohammedanism.

Basically all cults have total restrictions on everything you do, eat and how you dress. A cult has you making frequent repetitions as the dawn to dusk prayers five times a day forced on you. Cults are never tolerant. They regulate every aspect of life with beatings or worse for dissent. A cult tells you what God says or is like and discourages individual exploration. A cult says that only the leader (alive or dead as in Mohammed's case) can have a personal relationship with God.

Whereas a religion promotes your understanding of God and encourages individual interaction with God, a cult says that this is impossible and you can only please God by doing what the leader tells you to do.

Islam is the biggest cult the world has ever seen.

ISLAM is FASCIST/NAZI

Adolph Hitler is still a best selling author in Muslim countries today. A book that was distributed by the Palestinian Authority in 2003 using EU money for 'education', was 'MEIN KAMPF'.

Muslim brigades fought for the Nazis, in the Balkans and in the middle-east, and Hezbollah and other Muslim groups still give Nazi salutes today. photos proving Islamic link to Nazis www.tellthechildrenthetruth.com/gallery/ You can find Muslims of today giving Nazi salutes too. Hezbollah like to do it.

By adhering to anti-Semitic views and texts, the Islamist is racist. They propagate lies and conspiracy theories and all will say that suicide bombing is justified in so called Palestine. They yearn for babies to be slaughtered to further their cause and this is the heart of evil islam.

The jihadists exploit the west's reluctance to demonize muslims or even say anything that might hurt their sensibilities.

No politicians are saying the truth. That islam is fascist. They all say it is peaceful when it clearly and obviously isn't.

Multiculturalism teaches that one culture is just as valid as any other, but is a death obsessed, Nazi type cult that suppresses others to be given this same equivalency?

Like a mechanic fixing a car, there are tried and tested ways to improve societies. Multiculturalism says that any way to fix a car is okay, but clearly some ways work and many others don't.

Multicultural societies spend billions trying to stop good mechanics from saying our way is the way to go forward.

Yours is just making the problem worse.

George Orwell's thought police are here and now.

ISLAM is the BEAST

There are supposed to be 6616 verses in the Koran. I haven't counted them but this boast is somewhat reminiscent of the supposed number of the beast as being six, six, and six.

The hardened lump on many fanatical muslims heads is the mark of the beast.

You can see the bump on bin laden deputy's forehead from frequent banging of head.

Also mentioned in the Bible are the man of sin, the false prophet and then synagogue of Satan. These are Muhammad and his mosques. Below is a picture of the man of sin.

Yes the old Babylonian moon goddess, the enemy of God also known as Baal, looks remarkably like bin Laden and the moon symbol is also that of Islam.

Now the test of a true prophet according to the Bible, is that a prophet makes predictions that come true.

Mohammed is often called a prophet, but in fact did not make any true predictions. He thought he was going to win the battle of Uhud, but was defeated and had to flee for his life.

His own followers were concerned that Momadded was unable to do any miracles. They plead for some such proof in Surahs 17:90-93 and 13:7 that he is indeed divinely ordained, but he tells them he is a mortal plain warner. Though he does manage to tell the Muslims that they are all going to hell in sura 19:71. Funny.

Mohammed is the false prophet alluded to, in the New Testament. The synagogue of Satan is the mosque. Mosques were modeled on synagogues, and added the horns of the moon and beast and much later added minarets.

Another beastly act of mommadded was when he as a 53 year old man was sleeping with a young girl. We call such people pedophiles and put them in jail today.

And in a culture that reveres a man that had sex with a nine year old girl (Aisha), it is perhaps not too surprising to find Muslims engaging in pedophilia, though many examples are simply not talked about in the Muslim community as a way to avoid criticism. There are many sick practices in the Islamic world such as female circumcision and 'tithing', where babies are rubbed by male genitals.

And we import oil from where? I think I'll start walking!

In the UK, a mosque that was opened by the queen had an imam that dragged a girl in from the street and raped her in the mosque. In the multicultural paradise that is the UK, political correctness prevented much publicity about this and other rapacious crimes from Muslims.

We have had maximum publicity given to pederasts uncovered in the Roman Catholic Church, yet these same media sweep reports of pederast imams under the carpet. Rapes by frenzied Muslim youths are also downplayed. A documentary about 'grooming' young girls at the school gates was suppressed by the media.

Islam is True and Dangerous Satanism

Here, below is another recent example that resulted in a conviction.

UK: Rape. A man is jailed for 10 years A former Muslim cleric has been jailed for 10 years for raping and sexually abusing a 12-year-old girl in a mosque where he was teaching. Manzoor Hussain, 42, of Ashley Road, Bristol was convicted of one offence of rape and four of indecent assault. The offences took place at a mosque in the city.

"At the start of this catalogue of sexual abuse she was 12-years-old. She was just 13 when he raped her.

People with experience in Muslim lands will tell you that whilst homosexuality is banned by Islam, pederasts are quite prevalent in Islamic countries where children are taught to worship and obey their mullahs.

Homosexual men are not allowed but youths are treated as sexual playthings and are promised in paradise.

Quran 52:24 Round about them will serve, (devoted) to them, young male servants (handsome) as Pearls well-guarded.

Also in Surah 76:19 Allah promises fresh youths to Muslim men.

And round about them shall go youths never altering in age; when you see them you will think them to be scattered pearls.

Whilst we hear a lot about Catholic priests, we don't hear of the rapists and pederasts common in mosques.

Islamic Human Sacrifices from which David Myatt got it from

Human sacrifice. Seen in suicide and other bombings all around the world. Killing yourself or others is only glorified in Islam.

They worship death. They elevate martyrdom above those who enjoy life.

The parallels with the old moon religion of Baal is derived from worship of the lesser light (the moon). The lesser power that seeks to supplant the true God.

They bow towards the black stone in the qaaba in Mecca. Black stones were revered in ancient Arabia as they were thought to have fallen from the moon which is clearly dark sometimes.

Bowing towards any object is satanic and similar to idol worship.

Night time celebrations such as Ramadan when the day's fast is broken.

Chanting. The repetitions in the mosque and the Madrassahs are not prayers. They are repetitive chants.

The horns of the beast are proudly displayed on mosques as the horns of the moon.

Obsessive rituals. Such as the power of words and saying 'peace be upon him' whenever they mention their prophet's name .

The mark on the forehead from excessive prostration. Worn as a badge of honor in some places. It seems popular in Egypt. It is the mark of the beast.

And finally, the counterclockwise circling that is beloved of witches and Satanists.

The muslims circle the kaba seven times as part of their RITUALS.

They circle it COUNTERCLOCKWISE just as Satanists prefer.

MUSLIMS MUST BE FOUGHT

The Crusades are another area of revisionist history. Sure there were bloodthirsty plunderers amongst the crusaders drawn from all over Europe, but the basic thrust of the crusades were well intentioned. The Templar knights vow of poverty was as renowned as they were for their selfless protection of pilgrims. Do not forget that the Crusades themselves were a concerned response to the predatory and murderous attacks by Muslims upon harmless pilgrims. Accounts of that time were clear on who started perpetuating atrocities, yet somehow the revisionist historians describe Muslim caliphs that built towers of skulls as somehow being benign.

Once again, Europe and the West have to take up arms against the atrocities of muslims.

Muslims will kill you over a cartoon! They like killing and need to be denounced for the unholy satanic cult that they are.

Repelling the Muslims is a concern for Sikhs, Buddhists, Hindus as well as Christians. Christians especially are not familiar with calls to arms, and the church has become apostate in defending itself from within and without from subversion.

All faiths and civilized people need to combine to fight this unholy cult.

In a peaceful democratic society, normal people are wary of rocking the boat.

They want to give others the same rights normally extended to all citizens. People don't want to say my way is better than yours.

However, the hostility of Muslims who consider themselves part of a cult more than of society has to be countered. In the world of real politics, they have to be countered ideologically. Too many people ignore them rather than say their beliefs are of a cult.

THE FIVE POINT PLAN TO ERADICATE ISLAM FASCIST TERROR

1) ACKNOWLEDGE ISLAM AS THE VIOLENTLY INCLINED CULT THAT IT IS.

Then legislation can be enacted to protect rights from muslim demands.

2) DECLARE THE KORAN A TERROR DOCUMENT.

All copies are to be destroyed, as are bibles found in Saudi.

3) ALL MOSQUES TO BE CLOSED.

All institutions promoting islam to be outlawed.

4) CULTISTS TO BE INTERNED OR DEPORTED.

Civilization is not for the likes of them. They don't want it. Fine.

5) DESTROY MECCA.

The final payback for 9-11. The real politics of their campaign against civilization will be brought home to roost.

Extreme Islamic Ideas and pronunciations

GOD WANTS US TO FIGHT

You can ask God yourself as did Jesus, Moses or Habbukuk. You can look in the Bible to see what is in there. Don't be lukewarm and simply accept an interpretation that a preacher or priest insists is the answer. Whilst guidance can be instructive, too often a lukewarm regurgitation of someone else's pap fails to see the wood for the trees and they try to call a spade a fish. It would be a conceit to imagine that signs and guidance are evidence of a personal, extended dialog with God. In the bible, God tends to convey his messages quickly and not repeatedly.

It is worth considering whether doing good works is the highest good? What are the priorities that God wishes us to strive for?

Much of what GOD and JESUS wish to say to us aren't what we expect. Isa.55 [8] For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, say it the LORD.

John.16 [12] I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.

Here is an outline some scripture that you will never hear in a church.

Here is God mocking a church as a house of God.

Isaiah 66 [1] Thus say it the LORD, The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest?

Also in Acts.7 [49] Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? say it the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

And Jesus too is not necessarily found in a church.

Hebrews 9 [24] For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, And for good measure, the people that preach the so called truth are also dismissed.

Jeremiah 23:31, ?Behold I am against the prophet, say it the Lord, that use their tongues, and say He say it.?

CHARITY IS NOT REQUIRED

Whilst good works are evidence of faith, charity is not the primary good.

Rom.3 [10] As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one: [11] There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. [12] They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

What God wants is that we get wisdom with all our getting (Proverbs 4:7) and that understanding is equated with the highest good (Psalms 14:2-3, Romans 3:11). The seeking of wisdom and it's benefits are expounded in Proverbs 8 and 9th chapters and in Job 28 amongst other places.

Wisdom is above all what should be sought. Remember we are not saved for our works though indeed this may be indicator of our faith. Ephesians 2:8-9 and Titus 3:5 tells us that our works are not what endear us to God. Even Jesus said the poor will always be with us and it is a conceit to consider that we do good by charity. Indeed we may even be said to be going against something that God has appointed for someone. We can indeed have compassion and help those immediately in our orbit but scouring the earth for people to benefit is assuming a religious message not that of God. Taking God's name in vain is done by assuming we do his will and it is misunderstood by nearly all preachers and clerics. By making the sacrifice of a fool you are actually doing evil (Ecclesiastes 5:1). Tithe giving is never as good as a sinner repenting (Luke 18:10-14).

Is giving money to charity more of a sop to our sensibilities rather than actually an act of doing good? Giving ourselves a sense of doing good rather than actually doing something. The good Samaritan attended to something in front of him. He didn't put some money into a fund for someone else to administer.

Charity is a big industry these days. It can compound problems by relieving governing bodies of duty and allowing them to then spend what they would have had to spend on military adventures or genocide instead.

The cancer charities are a prime example of billions and billions that have been raised by well meaning fundraisers and put into a bottomless pit. Where does all this money go? It goes on repeating research which keeps battalions of consultants in well paid careers. I doubt that they would relish a breakthrough in their 'industry'. When treatments and operations are said to cost millions, the vast bulk of the money goes to pay doctors and specialists who are on very high salaries indeed.

Charity in the form of giving money is like the Samaritan offering money to someone else to pick up the stricken at the side of the road. Such 'works'; often sow the seeds of future suffering.

And when these charities claim to be working in God's name, they are breaking the commandment of taking God's name in vain. Taking God's name in vain means you are assuming that you doing God's work and will. You are actually working against God by countermanding acts of God.

People that consider themselves as doing good are invariably hypocrites for none but God are truly good (Mark 10:18). There is a tendency for people being charitable to consider themselves progressing upon a path of righteousness and this is why good works are not as crucial or meritorious to God as seeking understanding. We will all be condemned by our own mouths. It won't be the testimony of others saying we did good or ill that we hear as a judgment. It will be our own words. Now what this actually means is that it's not the grand and great things that we have done that are relayed, but the least of things. Mathew 12:36 warns, 'But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment'.

Jesus said that the poor will always be with us. The exhortation to make poverty history is like trying to order the incoming tide to recede.

Too many Christians today concentrate on the good works, the charity that demonstrates faith, but Romans 13 suggests we fight evil. Luke 18:10-14 says that tithe giving is never as good as a sinner repenting. Now charity is certainly an indication of faith, and certainly Jesus said to love thy neighbor as yourself and the example of the good Samaritan crossing the road to help is a model of humanity. We should certainly act well to those around us, and be helpful when help is needed. However things not in our immediate orbit are not considered matters to require our aid. Remember the parable of the birds that have no thought of food for tomorrow. Don't worry about it for God will see to it was the message of that. John 3:8 similarly describes those that are of the spirit, like the wind and don't know where they are going.

Those that cross continents rather than roads to do charitable works, well aren't they also ignoring cases closer to hand? Are they stepping over the injured to help favored others? Most do-gooders are doing it for themselves and their prejudices. Their assumed saintly robes are merely stained rags, and may be those that Jesus warned would claim to work in his name. Luke 18:10-14 says that someone listing their good works isn't good at all and perhaps they will be told to get away for he never knew them.

Gospel of Matthew chapter 7

1. [23] And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

Good charitable works are noble and they demonstrate faith. The frequent spectacle of millionaire celebrities appealing for charitable donations for their pet disasters and causes is somewhat sanctimonious. It is a personal conceit to assume that God is solely about love and charitable goodness. As David Attenborough pointed out, the same God that created visual beauty also created the worm that bores through eyeballs.

Consider the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah. God punished Sarah for deigning to look at it. Those that would rush to the scene for charity and humanity could actually be defying God's will. So you see that simple charity as doing the work of God is a personal conceit used to justify such actions rather than a divine commandment. We are saved through grace not by works, and pandering to the evil of Mohammedanism by tolerating their cult is perhaps a greater sin. Equating God simply with love is allowing yourselves to become prey to predators and evil.

The Chinese apparently believe you shouldn't try to save a drowning person as it is interfering with fate. Who are we to interfere in God's will by saving muslims from their self inflicted disasters or acts of God?

Remember that Jesus in John 16:12 said, 'I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.' In Revelation 3:19, God says that he will rebuke as many as he loves.

As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

Instead of money, spend a few people to make the world a better place.

There is a more urgent duty to remake the world.

THE HIGHEST GOOD

No-one is good, but seeking wisdom is the highest aspiration. Pss.14 [2] The LORD looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, and seek God. [3] They are all gone aside, they are all together become filthy: there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

Zephaniah 1: 6 And them that are turned back from the LORD; and those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired for him.

Proverbs 4:7 Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.

Hosea 6:6 For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

I can interpret the parable of the ten pounds for you. In Luke 19:26, it says 'That unto every one which hath shall be given: and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him?'. Now some interpret this in a material way. Along the lines of the rich getting richer and the poor getting poorer. What it is about is spiritual understanding. We all are born with some, and a few try to increase it. To those will be given even more. Others never seek understanding of God and what they will lose what little they have.

This wisdom sought after is the test of heaven. Anyone can throw a coin at a beggar or write a check for a cause.

Fewer still will actually give someone the coat from their back, but these are in a sense ultimately selfish actions for the warm and fuzzy feelings they engender. The true test to separate the wheat from the chaff is whether you can be bothered to really enquire of God. To ignore your devotion to your fellow man and stop being intellectually lazy and use at least the Sabbath to make enquiries. Hosea 6:6 says that the knowledge of god is desired more than burnt offerings. This means your charity is not as valued as your knowledge. The message is right there that you should take no account of your material needs and leave that to God.

Zephaniah 1:2-18 says God will cut off "those that have not sought the Lord nor enquired for him". This is what God wants us to do.

PRAYING

And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly" (Matthew 6:5-6).

Praying in private is also recommended in Psalms.

Psalms 4:4 Stand in awe, and sin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still. Selah.

Muslims just love praying in public.

A mark of the heathen are their vain repetitions (Mathew 6:7).

There are many suggestions of how to live your life such as 1 Timothy 4:1 saying to get married, eat of everything including meat and that a bit of wine is good for the belly. Jesus himself outlines a recipe for living on the sermon of the mount, which was like a press conference of today whereby the message is outlined. He taught with parables so that we could all get at the deeper spiritual meaning despite any errors of translation. When he was asked directly, he said to keep the commandments.

FIGHT EVIL

Matthew 10:34 Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

We have to fight evil not simply do tokens of good.

Turning the other cheek is a Christian message. It means not to respond to provocation. Rather than escalate a situation, Jesus asks that if something offends you, then to pluck out your eye. To give someone the shirt from your back if asked. These are good and noble responses but it doesn't mean that murderers, rapists and thieves should be allowed to indulge themselves. Turning a cheek does not mean that you should simply roll over and expose your underbelly and enable evil to operate unchallenged.

Jesus himself got mad and violent as when he scourged the moneychangers and overturned their tables in the temple compound. But as Mark 5:22 allows, anger is okay when it is righteous. What is not acceptable are those of an angry disposition that have no just cause. God himself is often made angry and in Exodus 34:14 states that 'Jealous is my name'.

Romans 13:4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

Matthew 12:9 (also in Mark) says that it is necessary to bind the strong man in order to spoil his house. This is Satan being spoken of. There are calls to arms from Jesus that are ignored by the lukewarm teachers of the established church. In Luke 12:4-9, he says 'I am come to send fire' and that 'He that is not with me is against me'. (Matthew 12:30).

Think not that Jesus was simply a do-gooder, a worker of miracles. 2 Peter 3:5-8 warns of those stored up for fire.

1 Corinthians 15:25 and Hebrews 10:13 says that his enemies are to be made a footstool. 1 John 2:22 and 2 John 7 clearly says that he who denies Christ is the antichrist, as Mohammed does in the Koran. Galatians 1:8 warns that not even an angel can change the word of God and that Lucifer himself can change himself into an angel of light (2 Corinthians 11:4). Since Mohammed supposedly was visited by an angel to receive the koran, this goes against what was said in the New Testament. Even though the Koran claims the bible as the higher authority, there are innumerable differences.

ISLAM IS THE BEAST

Jeremiah 31:27 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

As the parable of the tares shows, the evil will grow alongside the good.

In Revelation 2:9, '..say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.' This passage refers to the Moslems that are saying that they are the chosen people (like Jews), and the synagogue of Satan is the mosque, that was indeed modeled on the synagogues. To further define this synagogue of Satan, the horns of the crescent moon are added which are also the horns of the beast.

The man of sin'..moon god'.islamicist' .bin laden. The beast.

2 Thessalonians 2:3 Let no man deceive you by any means: for [that day shall not come], except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition; Mat 7:16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

Matthew 7:20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

So what countermeasures against the lying scheming murderous evil cult can good people take? As someone once said, evil succeeds when good people do nothing, and the threat of Islamic evil has never been so widespread and nakedly aggressive.

Dialogue with a motivated enemy such as the Nazis or the sneak attackers on Pearl Harbour as with the World Trade Towers is never the best approach. The Islamist constantly uses disingenuous arguments to deflect your own rational points. They'll tell you that Hitler was a Christian. He wasn't, he often had his storm troopers kill priests and he reinstituted pagan festivals. Mein kampf is still widely read in the Muslim world and it was Muslim Nazi brigades in the Balkans that exterminated gypsies and other innocents during WWII.

They'll tell you that they revere Jesus, but the Koran has blasphemous claims about him and not one of his famous teaching parables. The Islamist only real interest is not in any teaching that he may have had for the world but only as a tool with which to mock Christianity. They deny that Jesus died on the cross and although they say God can do anything, they say it was impossible for him to have a son. They are therefore limiting the power of God by their own preferred beliefs, even when they are contradictory.

Muslims constantly teach a revisionist history that teaches a race hate against Jews especially. They will ignore the slave trade routes established by muslims, some of which still operate today and concentrate on slaves bought from them hundreds of years ago. Islamist still practice slavery and genocide as we have seen recently in Darfur and the Sudan.

So if dialogue is impossible with Muslims, can the real politics of using their own tactics of subterfuge and military campaigns work? Simply put, the only way to restrain a violent cult is to fight it.

Violent Muslims are fish that swim in an Islamic lake. To get every last one of them, you have to drain the whole of their environment. When you grasp a nettle, you have to also pull up the roots or else it will flower anew.

Muslims will claim that the Koran was given to clarify God's will but as most of it is a direct contradiction of what is said in the Bible, you have to wonder who really was the source. The numerous divisions and sects within Islam show that there is no clarity of message anyway. Koran passages and Muslims contradict themselves constantly though they simply deny it.

The false prophet is spoken of in Revelations and who else but Mohammed fulfils this description? The synagogue of Satan spoken of is the mosque that has the horns of the beast atop them. Just as the mark of the beast will be on the foreheads and is clearly seen on pious Muslims such as the Egyptian associate of bin Laden.

It is a hardened calloused horny bump that comes from frequent banging of the head to the floor. God also says (3:19) that he will rebuke and chastise as many as he will cherish. God also demands that we prosecute the war against evil vigorously for as Revelations 3:15-16 says, if you are neither cold nor hot but lukewarm, then you will be spewed out.

Another mark of the heathen are their vain repetitions (Mathew 6:7). We are warned against making a public show of prayer as the hypocrites do and not to make vain repetitions and pointing our arses at the sky as the heathen muslims do. We are encouraged to form a personal relationship with God by praying in our closet unseen (Mathew 6:6), or as Psalms 4:4 suggests to 'commune with your own heart upon your own bed.?

Tacked on at the end of a parable is a pretty clear message about what should happen to the enemies of Christ.

Read Luke 19:27 (KJV) for yourself, as it is unlikely to be heard in the teachings of today's lukewarm apostate churches.

But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.?

In the battle on earth as we know it, I suggest you weigh Ezekiel 33:8 whereby we have to warn the wicked and then slay them if they refuse to acknowledge their king. I understand that this militant Christianity may shock those that only expect jihad to come from the Islamaniac heathen hordes.

Consider the last verse of Zechariah about the Canaanites being removed forever from Temple Mount, or Isaiah 34:9-10 about Idumea (Saudi Arabia) being forever destroyed. Consider the 200 million (in Revelation 9:16) that will march on Jerusalem and that Jeremiah 31:27 says the beast will live alongside Israel. This beast are the Muslim hordes because Islam is the religion of the beast.

The false prophet spoken about in Revelation 20:7-10 is of course Mohammed. The mosque is the synagogue of Satan spoken about and is the one that sitteth in the temple of God showing that he is god (2 Thessalonians 2:3-12) and of Lucifer that sits on the mount of congregation (Isaiah 14:13). The New Testament clearly states that he who denies Christ is Antichrist (1John 2:22 and 2John 7) which is of course what is written in the Koran. The angel of revelation that spoke to Mohamed counts for nothing as the bible clearly states that Lucifer can change himself into an angel of light (2Corinthians 11:4) deceiving the very elect and that not even an angel can change the word of God and Christ (Galatians 1:8).

BETRAYAL AND TRAITORS

The supposed defenders of the faith have watered it down to mean defending other faiths. They are liars and hypocrites. The queen backs a faith she was not pledged to defend. King Charles dressed as a dhimmi somewhere in Muslim garb. The last Pope kisses the most unholy book. A glorified man but a traitor in charge of an apostate church.

THE ROLL of HONOUR Santiago Matamoros El Cid Charles Martel THE RETURN OF CHRIST

2 Corinthians 13:2 I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare:

When Jesus returns, there will be an element of separation of the wheat from the chaff. He will raise up an ensign to gather the remnant (Jeremiah 31:27 and Micah 2:12). He asked that we don't cast our pearls before swine and let them alone (Mathew 15:14). This is the message that diverges from the one of universal love and is the one that the disciples were warned of not yet being able to bear.

Remember that Christ himself advised his apostles to carry a couple of swords (at the time of his arrest), so as to ensure that his apostles were not also meekly arrested and prevented from their proselytizing mission.

Think not that Jesus is against the death penalty. His own example of going to his own crucifixion and acknowledgement of expecting his followers to have a sword brought against them and future martyrs show his familiarity with extinguishing life. He says "I am come to send fire" (Luke 12:4-9) and that, "He that is not with me is against me" (Mathew 12:30). 2Peter 3:5-8 warns of those "stored up for fire". 1Corinthians 15:25 and Hebrews 10:13 says that his enemies will be put under his feet and made a footstool.

It is okay to be righteously angry. Jesus' example of his scourging of the moneylenders in the temple is one example. In Mathew 5:22, anger is allowed. What is not acceptable is an angry type of person that is angry without just cause. God can understand anger and jealousy well. He even says in Exodus 34:14 that, 'Jealous is my name'. But what he really hates are the chasing after false gods, covetousness, stirring up trouble against the innocent and a conspiratorial mind. I'm sure there's other things that he would have against us but the pure in heart and of the spirit may be free of most such vices, accusations from the evil notwithstanding.

No longer a preacher, Jesus will return as the judge to distinguish the select from the seed of the beast (Jeremiah 31:27). The man with the inkhorn will write the new name of God into our foreheads (Revelation 3:22 Ezekiel 9:2-7,11). The new name will be written upon the white stone (Revelation 2:17) and in our foreheads (Revelation 22:4, 14:1).

As Mathew 12:29 tells (also in Mark), it will be necessary to bind the strong man to spoil his house. This is Satan being spoken of and as Revelation also mentions, God will rebuke and chastise as many as he will cherish (Revelation 3:19). He demands that we prosecute the war against evil vigorously for as Revelation 3:15-16 says, if you neither cold nor hot but lukewarm, then you will be spewed out. Consider that the symbol of the cross is also a sword and that there are reasons for this double zymology. In chapter 2 and especially Isaiah 66:16 it is explicitly stated that "For by fire and by his sword will the Lord plead with all flesh, and the slain of the Lord shall be many.

Romans 13:4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

Turning the other cheek is about not escalating petty arguments into huge fights. But we must fight evil, defend freedom and stop the dead hand of Islamic influence.

Jesus was not averse to using force Luke 22:36 Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.

Read Luke 19:27 (KJV) for yourself, as it is unlikely to be heard in the teachings of today's lukewarm apostate churches.

'But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.'

Allah is not the same Deity as the Christian God

When Muslims are asked whether Allah is the same God as the Christian God, many Muslims will reply, "yes." Muslims believe that Jesus was a prophet of the one true God, but that Muhammad was the last true prophet.

But Muslims

- (1) do not believe Jesus was crucified on a cross,
- (2) do not believe Jesus died on that cross, and
- (3) do not believe Jesus was resurrected after 3 days by God.

Muslims also do not believe

- (4) that Jesus is the only way to God, or
- (5) that God is Jesus' heavenly Father, or
- (6) that Jesus is coequal with God - all of which Jesus claimed as being true.

So how can Allah be the same God as the Christian God?

Either:

- (1) Jesus is who He declared Himself to be, or
- (2) Jesus was deceived as to who He believed Himself to be, or
- (3) Jesus was a liar.

Let's put the Christian God in true perspective!

- (1) If Jesus did not die on a cross, the Christian God is a false God.
- (2) If God did not raise Jesus from the dead after 3 days, the Christian God is a false God.
- (3) If Jesus is not the only way to God, the Christian God is a false God.
- (4) If Jesus is not coequal with God, the Christian God is a false God.
- (5) If Jesus was deceived as to who He was, the Christian God is a false God.
- (6) If Jesus was a liar, the Christian God is a false God.

Let's put the Muslim God in true perspective.

- (1) If Jesus did die on a cross, and God raised Him from the dead after 3 days, the Muslim God is a false God.
- (2) If Jesus is the only way to God, the Muslim God is a false God.
- (3) If Jesus is coequal with God, the Muslim God is a false God.
- (4) If Jesus was not deceived as to who He was, the Muslim God is a false God.
- (5) If Jesus was not a liar, the Muslim God is a false God.

If Jesus is who He declared Himself, it's time to stop saying Allah is the same God as the Christian God.

If Jesus is who He declared Himself to be, it's time to stop saying other roads can lead to God.

If Jesus is who He declared Himself to be, it's time to start saying Allah is a false God.

We know Allah is Not the God of the Bible

Muslims believe that there is no other God besides Allah and that he is the God of the universe. They claim that not only is he their God, but that he is the God of the Jews, the Christians and everyone else. When examining the profile of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and comparing it with Allah's profile, there are a number of distinct differences between them that can only result in one conclusion: These profiles simply do not match! Allah is NOT the God of the Bible!

The Islamic faith, through the teachings of Muhammad, asserts that Allah is God and attempt to place him within the confines of the Holy Scriptures. When the Bible contradicts their teachings, they allege that it is flawed, has been tampered with, and has many errors. They further claim that the Koran, through the teachings of their prophet Muhammad, corrects them. However, it has already been established that Muhammad was both a false prophet and teacher. Therefore, Islam's allegations are unsupported, baseless and without merit.

There are a number of major differences between the God of the Bible and Allah. This chapter will focus upon five reasons why they are not the same. According to the Holy Scriptures, the God of the Bible is the one true God while Allah is a false god.

1. God's Begotten Son

The Hebrew Scriptures clearly teach that God has a begotten Son. The Old Testament reference can be found in Psalm 2:6-7, which states:

- “Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion. (7) I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.”

Though the Muslims are taught that this passage refers to King David, David was begotten of Jesse. Ruth 4:22 states, “And Obed begat Jesse, and Jesse begat David.” In Psalm 2:7, the Hebrew word yalad is used, Strong's 3205. This word refers to an actual begetting, bearing, birthing and siring. Therefore, this passage clearly teaches that the God of the Bible has an actual begotten Son. As fulfilled in the New Testament, Luke 1:30-32, 34-35 declares that He was born of a virgin:

“And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God. (31) And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. (32) He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David...(34) Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? (35) And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.”

When referring to the New Testament, Acts 13:33 cites Psalm 2:7 indicating that it was Jesus Christ, born of a virgin, who is the fulfillment of God’s begotten Son. Acts 13:33 attests: “God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.”

It is also significant to note that, in Acts 13:33, the Greek word gennao is used, Strong’s 1080. Regarding this word’s definition, it is the equivalent to the Hebrew word yalad. This word also refers to an actual begetting, bearing, birthing and siring.

Though both Old and New Testaments teach that God has a begotten Son, the Koran emphatically rejects Allah having a son. In the following Suras, Muhammad declares:

The Believers

Surah 23.91 “Never did Allah take to Himself a son, and never was there with him any other god-- in that case would each god have certainly taken away what he created, and some of them would certainly have overpowered others; glory be to Allah above what they describe!”

The Distinction

Surah 25.2 “He, Whose is the kingdom of the heavens and the earth, and Who did not take to Himself a son, and Who has no associate in the kingdom, and Who created everything, then ordained for it a measure.”

In direct opposition to the Koran, Jesus teaches in John 3:16-18 that He, as God’s only begotten Son, is the only way to eternal salvation and everlasting life. He also instructs that those who deny Him as the only begotten Son of God are doomed to destruction:

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (17) For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. (18) He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.”

With respect to this passage, John 3:18 is just as important as John 3:16 when considering the teachings of Muhammad in the Koran. John 3:18 declares condemnation to those who do not believe “in the name of the only begotten Son of God.” Meanwhile, Muhammad teaches to reject God’s Son. Therefore, when considering the message of salvation in the Bible, the Islamic faith, through the guidance of a false instructor and prophet, teaches condemnation to all, not salvation to all!

Throughout the New Testament, the message that Muhammad rejects remains consistent. Jesus Himself continues to testify in John 14:6 and Matthew 10:32-33 the following:

- John 14:6 “...I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.”
- Matthew 10:32-33 “Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. (33) But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.”

While the Holy Scriptures continue to stress that the only way to eternal salvation is through Jesus Christ, the only begotten Son of God, the Koran, through the written words of Mohammed, teaches that Allah will destroy anyone who believes that he has a son. The applicable Sura from the Koran and the written words of Mohammed follow:

The Immunity

Surah 9.30 “And the Jews say: Uzair is the son of Allah; and the Christians say: The Messiah is the son of Allah; these are the words of their mouths; they imitate the saying of those who disbelieved before; may Allah destroy them; how they are turned away!”

With respect to the begotten Son issue, Allah cannot be the God of the Bible. The Scriptures are blatantly clear that God has a begotten Son and that His Son is the only way to salvation. Meanwhile, the Koran teaches that Allah does not have a son and that those who believe that he does will be destroyed. Therefore, Allah is NOT the God of the Bible!

2. The Godhead, or Trinity

One of the basic fundamental principles of Christianity is the concept of the Godhead, or Trinity. Christians do not believe in three Gods; they believe in a Triune God. They are taught that the LORD manifested Himself to the world in three ways. Secondly, His Word was made flesh in the form of His only begotten Son, John 1:1,14. And finally, His Holy Spirit was manifested to the world. In John 16:13-15, Jesus describes the Spirit as follows:

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come. (14) He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you. (15) All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.”

Furthermore, in John 14:16-18, Jesus describes the Holy Spirit as “another Comforter:”

“And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; (17) Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. (18) I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.”

According to the Book of Acts, this was fulfilled in the upper room on the day of Pentecost. Acts 2:1-4 explains that, on that day, the Holy Ghost descended upon the disciples and they all began to speak in tongues:

“And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. (2) And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. (3) And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. (4) And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.”

In conclusion, the God of the Bible manifested Himself to the world in the person of Jesus Christ when His Word was made flesh, John 1:1,14. Furthermore, He manifested Himself to the world when His Holy Spirit descended upon the disciples in the upper room on the day of Pentecost, Acts 2:1-4. This is a brief illustration of the Godhead, or Trinity: three persons in one God or God manifesting Himself in three persons.

In absolute contradiction to the Scriptural foundation that God is a Triune Being, according to Muhammad, Allah has a completely different makeup. The applicable Sura from the Koran, which refers to Jesus by the name of Isa, emphasizes that Allah is not three:

Surah 4.171 “O followers of the Book! do not exceed the limits in your religion, and do not speak lies against Allah, but speak the truth; the Messiah, Isa son of Marium is only an apostle of Allah and His Word which He communicated to Marium and a spirit from Him; believe therefore in Allah and His apostles, and say not, Three.”

Therefore, with respect to the Godhead, or Trinity, there is only one conclusion that can be made: Allah is NOT the God of the Bible!

3. The Crucifixion

John 19:16-18 “Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away. (17) And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha: (18) Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.”

The Holy Scriptures specifically teach that Jesus Christ, the Lamb of God, was crucified approximately two thousand years ago for the sins of mankind. They hung Him on a cross to die a criminal’s death. 1 John 2:2 further testifies: “And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.”

According to the Bible, everyone can achieve redemption and everlasting life through God’s only begotten Son and His shed blood at the cross. The wages of sin is death, Romans 6:23, and Jesus died for all of us so that we can live forever. This is the Good News of God’s saving grace for mankind. However the Koran, through the spoken words of Mohammed, adamantly rejects the crucifixion. The applicable Sura from the Koran follows:

The Woman

Surah 4.157 “And their saying: Surely we have killed the Messiah, Isa son of Marium, the apostle of Allah; and they did not kill him nor did they crucify him, but it appeared to them so (like Isa) and most surely those who differ therein are only in a doubt about it; they have no knowledge respecting it, but only follow a conjecture, and they killed him not for sure.”

With respect to the crucifixion of Jesus Christ, it is apparent that the Gospel message in the Bible is radically different from the message given by Allah through his prophet Muhammad. The denial of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ by Muhammad in his teachings in the Koran leads to the undeniable fact that the God of the Bible cannot be Allah. Their messages are substantially different since both Muhammad and Allah reject the God of the Bible’s only begotten Son.

4. The God of the Bible Condemns Muhammad

As we have seen, John 3:18 states: “He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.”

The Gospel message in the Bible is quite clear: All those who reject the only begotten Son of God are condemned. No person can receive everlasting life and the forgiveness of sins except through Him. In Matthew 10:33, Jesus states: “But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.”

Muhammad, a supposed prophet of Allah, denies God’s only begotten Son. Not only did he deny Him, he taught others to do so as well. Therefore, based on the words in the Bible and based on the words in the Koran, Muhammad is condemned by the God of the Bible as the result of his own false teachings. According to Matthew 10:33, He is also condemned by His only begotten Son Jesus Christ. Besides the Suras already cited, the following additional Suras demonstrate Muhammad’s rejection of God’s message of salvation to mankind:

Jonah

Sura 10.68 “They say: Allah has taken a son (to Himself)! Glory be to Him: He is the Self-sufficient: His is what is in the heavens and what is in the earth; you have no authority for this; do you say against Allah what you do not know?”

The Children of Israel

Surah 17.111 “And say: (All) praise is due to Allah, Who has not taken a son and Who has not a partner in the kingdom, and Who has not a helper to save Him from disgrace; and proclaim His greatness magnifying (Him).”

The Cave

Sura 18.4 “And warn those who say: Allah has taken a son.”

Marium

Sura 19.35 “It beseems not Allah that He should take to Himself a son, glory to be Him; when He has decreed a matter He only says to it "Be," and it is.”

Because of the contrary teachings of Islam’s prophet Muhammad, if he were alive today, and the world submitted to Biblical law, he would again be given the death penalty as is commanded in Deuteronomy 13:1-5, specifically verse 5, as follows:

“If there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and giveth thee a sign or a wonder, (2) And the sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them; (3) Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams: for the LORD your God proveth you, to know whether ye love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul. (4) Ye shall walk after the LORD your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and obey his voice, and ye shall serve him, and cleave unto him. (5) And that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall be put to death; because he hath spoken to turn you away from the LORD your God...”

5. The God of the Bible Rejects Allah

Throughout the Holy Scriptures, the prophets of God stressed that there is no god besides Him. According to them, He is the only God. The applicable Scriptural references follow:

- Exodus 20:2-3 “I am the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. (3) Thou shalt have no other gods before me.”

- Deuteronomy 6:4 “Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God is one LORD.”
- Deuteronomy 32:39 “See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no god with me: I kill, and I make alive; I wound, and I heal: neither is there any that can deliver out of my hand.”
- Isaiah 44:6 “Thus saith the LORD the King of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God.”

According to John 17:3 Jesus Christ, God’s only begotten Son, confirms that the Father is the one true God. With respect to His Father, Jesus states: “And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.”

In no way is John 17:3 to be used to deny Jesus’ Deity. Note: See the Answering the Objections to the Deity of Jesus chapter for an explanation of this verse that actually proves the Deity of the Son. Jesus’ statement in this verse denies the Deity of all others. Since this chapter illustrates that Allah is NOT the God of the Bible, there is only one conclusion that can be made: According to Exodus 20:2-3, Deuteronomy 6:4, Deuteronomy 32:39, Isaiah 44:6, and John 17:3, the LORD God of the Bible and His only begotten Son reject Allah. Allah is not a true G(g)od. Therefore, he is a false god!

Allah is Satan (Shaitan) the God of Tyranny

All men truly want a crusade to be done for their beliefs so that it will be the most dominate creed. The victor of this cultural war which we are in, will be the ones who will bring about the strongest, most zealous, and effective crusade. Therefore, in order for Christianity to prevail, zealots must rise. It used to be that Christianity dominated the West; it was the driving force of its universities, its artists, its philosophers, its archaeologists and its historians.

But now we hear constantly in today’s church that its “not about us versus them”, and what is the result of such a prevailing belief? The “them” has conquered us, and now heresy reigns supreme in the modern world, with Christianity being deemed only as a mere religious preference. Philip Yancey, a true modern deceiver in every sense of the word, once wrote that “Grace dies when it becomes us versus them.”

Well, no, it is about us versus them, and the contrary is never found in Scripture. David killing Goliath was “us versus them”; Elijah slaying the priests of Baal was “us versus them”; Noah’s Flood was “us versus them”; Jehu shooting down Jehoram, having Jezabel thrown out of a window and Ahab’s sons executed, was “us versus them”; Moses putting to death the calf worshippers was “us versus them”; Christ crushing the head of the Serpent and casting out demons was “us versus them”; and the coming battle between Christ and His Saints and the Antichrist and his slaves will be “us versus them.”

No serious believer can ever deny that Christianity demands from us our complete willpower in fighting evil. No serious expositor on the Scripture could flee from the fact that the Scripture has more condemnations against wicked religions and practices than it does guidelines on things such as marriage and finances—two subjects that today’s church never stops talking about. Tolerance toward false religions is nowhere found in the Scripture, and yet today’s church is filled with it. Turning away from attacking evil ideologies is never found in the Bible, but yet much of the church encourages this.

It is told to us over and over again, “Do not impose your religion on me!” But everywhere we look and turn we are being called to the altar of conformity, and urged to never speak of Christianity. How did this happen? It was not Leftism, nor was it even socialism. These are simply symptoms to the actual problem. The root cause is a weak church.

A popular jargon today is that Islam was hijacked by “extremists”, but the truth is that Christianity has been hijacked by moderates. Modernistic heretics who esteem themselves as “grace filled” believers who cry out against legalism, have succeeded in portraying the Bible as a self-help book. The reality is that the Bible is not about boosting self-esteem, or making money, it is a manual on fighting evil. It is filled with examples of how God and saintly men and women have defied tyranny: God repulsing the builders of the Tower of Babel, Moses confronting the Pharaoh, Joshua vanquishing the savage Canaanites, Othniel revolting against the despotic government of king Cushan-Rishathaim, Deborah rallying her people to overthrow the oppressor Rabin, Christ stubbornly opposing the Sanhedrin and then dying for the sins of mankind—all are actions done by zealots.

They would have never made these accomplishments if they had not a burning spirit of zealotry lodged within their hearts. Americans and Europeans are plagued with socialism, and this will only be fixed by zealots who contradict them. Yet, thanks to the vague viewpoints of modernly minded Christians, zealotry has been deemed as an evil by many within the present-day church.

For example, John Bevere has described “meanspirited and legalistic pastors” as “zealots” who “have reduced holiness to a backward lifestyle and taken the joy out of living.”

We have forgotten the fact that Christianity is supreme over all other creeds, thus we have chosen to neglect Christian supremacy (not that a Christian is superior to all other peoples, but that Christianity is superior over all other religions). We see it as bigoted or xenophobic; but here is the truth, and there is no running away from it: every nation on earth is under an ideological supremacy. We have no other choice but to esteem an idea as supreme; if we don’t, someone else will, and it may not be one of liberty, but utter tyranny.

In Somalia it is Islamic supremacy, in India Hindu supremacy, in Bhutan Buddhist supremacy, and in South Sudan it is Christian supremacy. As we laude ourselves in America as not being supremacist Christians, we still wonder as to why so many “believers” runaway from controversy, trivialize the most important priorities and prioritize the most trivial issues.

As homosexuality becomes more acceptable, and the story of Sodom is seen with indifference as just a fairy tale, a minister of the Word says that homosexuality “has not been in the range of my priorities in the past 15 years” Tim Tebow (USA), who became the idol for the modern Christians for some time, chose to runaway from the spiritual fray as soon as controversy arrived when he was about to speak at a church known to be against homosexuality, Islam and Mormonism.

Today’s Christian asks, “Why is there so much fear?”, but the zealot already knows the answer: Christian supremacy has been dismantled, zealotry trampled, and the soft despotism of secular and tolerance supremacy has been put on the altar and praised as the nation’s new god. Many current Christians ask why God demands His people to be so aggressive toward heathenism in the Old Testament, and the answer to their question is right in front us.

The entire deconstruction of the Church in America is all due to our dislike of rocking the boat and the “us versus you” mindset. We have done away with our “us versus you” mentality, but the wicked have not. They have reduced the Church from a place of great influence and erudition to a clubhouse, all because we have allowed them to. This has not only empowered the enemies of the Church in the West, but abroad: the worshippers of Allah.

The rise of Islam is determined by the conviction of the Church. If the Church is weak, Islam is strong, and if the Church is supreme, Islam goes dormant and Muslims care no more on the teachings of Muhammad. When Christ is exalted then Allah is disdained; and when God is elevated above all things, that is when the Cross shall overpower the Crescent, and the wicked prevented from ever establishing tyranny. Allah is Satan (Chaitan)

Allah is Satan

The name Allah is derived from the Hebrew Chaldea word Halal which is the NAME OF SATAN in the scriptures in Isaiah 14.12, "How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer (HALAL), son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!"

Babylon worshiped the moon god. Arabia is the daughter of Babylon. Halal is also an Arab word which means "crescent moon". Muslims use the crescent moon on most of their flags. Halal also means to Muslims, "meat slaughtered in the prescribed way."

In the Koran, Allah has 99 names. Muhammad is the son of Abdullah the servant of Allah. So how could Muhammad have introduced Allah if his father's name is the slave of Allah? It is a Babylonian religion that practiced the same pilgrimage techniques.

The Islamic curtain is more impenetrable than the iron curtain. How could we have stopped WWII from happening and the subsequent iron curtain? The allies would have had to attack Germany years before 1939, noticing they were building their military to unreasonable levels.

In order to stop the many Germany's of Islam that want to exterminate the Jews and take over the world, the global community should invade Muslim nations. This is beginning to happen.

If someone breaks into your home like Muhammadistic suicide mass murderers and tries to kill your loved ones, and you just turn the other cheek, you are guilty.

How long must Israel, on a sliver of land surrounded by Islam, have to endure a major military offensive against them every ten years? The land of Israel extends to the Euphrates River according to God (Gen. 15.18) which they will acquire eventually. There is nothing Muslims can do about it. It is written in God's word what will happen.

Islam is mercilessly trying to shove Israel into the Mediterranean Sea. No matter how hard they try they can't succeed. This shows the glory of God in keeping His promise Israel, the elect, will be the centre of all nations.

I really see no solution but the USA, EU and other countries will have to combine their efforts to invade Iran as a defensive measure and divvy up the oil bounty for themselves. When you threaten to annihilate a nation and continue to try to do so, you yourself will be annihilated like the ancient tribes of Canaan that practiced child sacrifice. Muslim parents today send their children off to be suicide mass murderers like throwing them into that fiery mouth of Molech.

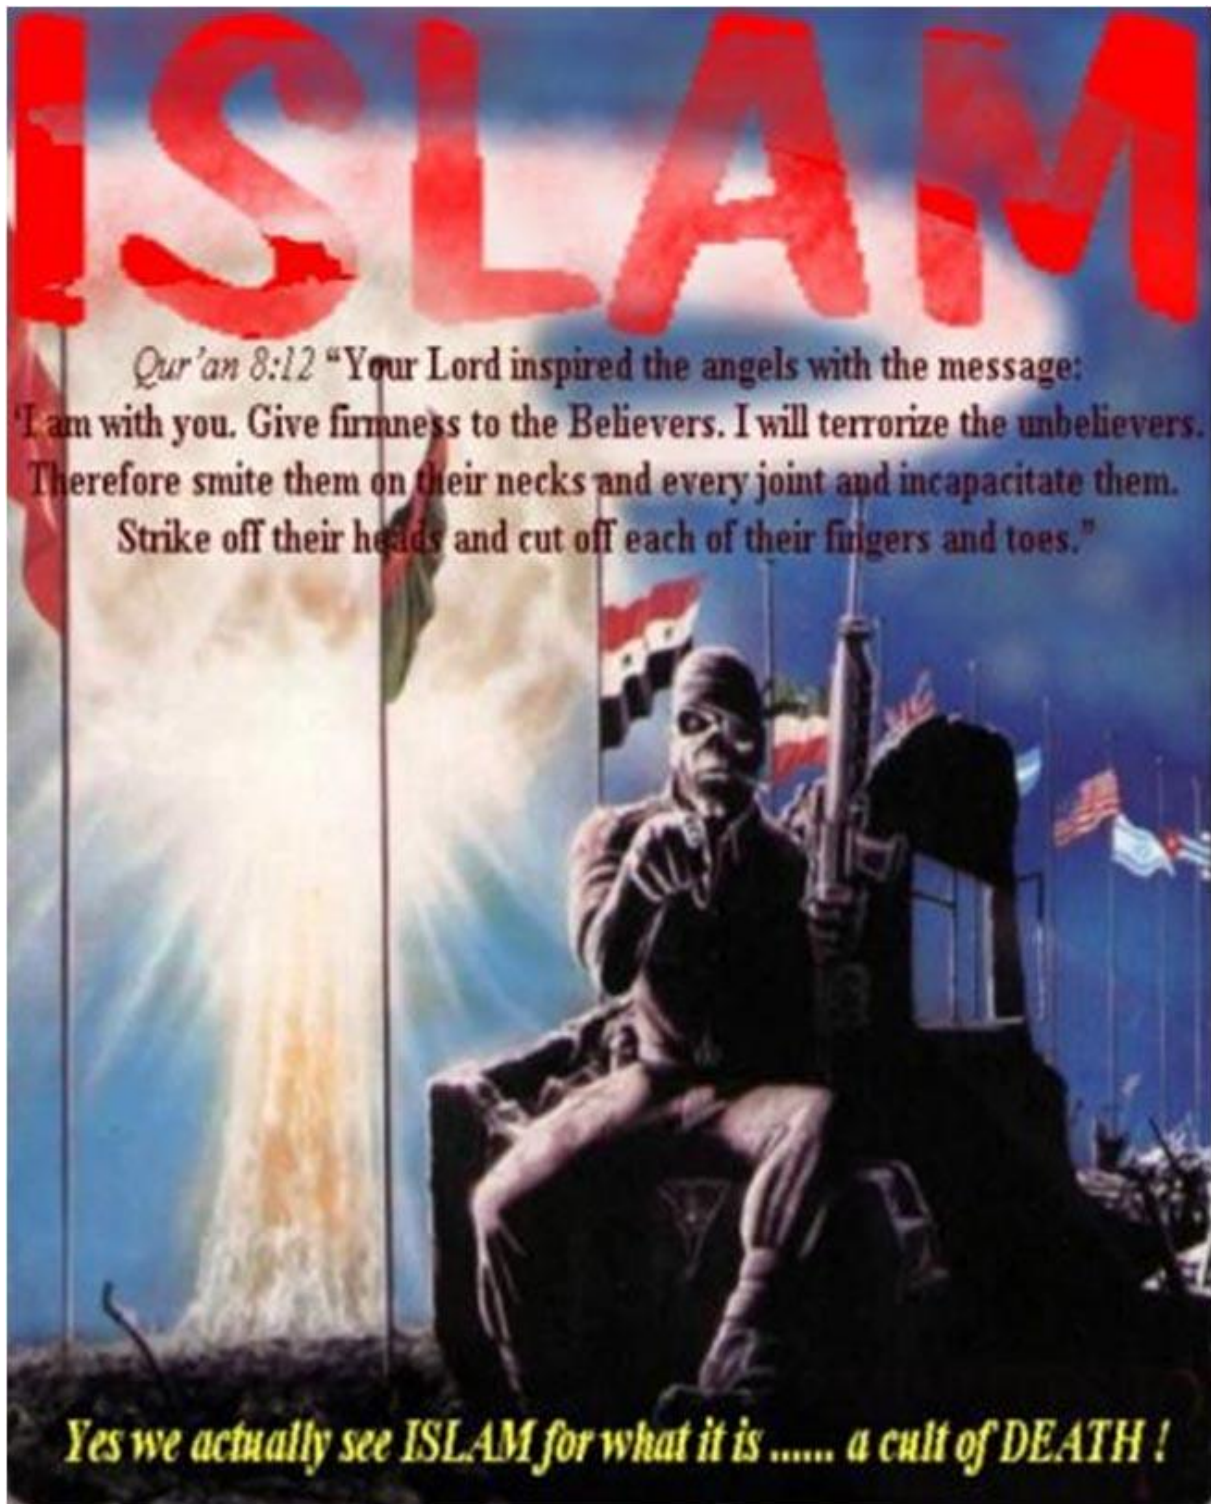

Muslims love killing people. That's their specialty. Any Muslim that is not a murderer is not a true Muslim, for the Koran is clear. It says to kill anyone who is not a Muslim. Muslims even kill Shiah if they are Sunni and vice versa.

The Atrocities of Satan called Allah Illustrated

A Satanic Qu'ran Verse

Five women buried alive

A woman stoned to death

A woman beaten

There's also the fact that when Mohammed first heard Allah's word he believed he was possessed by Satan.

AND

Allah told Mohammed that he was "the greatest of all deceivers."

The power of Satan infuses any determination to inflame passions that lead to jealousy, antagonism, aggression, theft, destruction and murder.

And there is more evidence of Satanic Islam. Western Satanism, even the Traditional Satanism is not to be compared with Islam. Against Satanic Islam, is Western Satanism a joke (lol), a passe-temps, can also be drunkenness and vandalism, and especially a sexual event or orgies after a ritual as the Black Mass. Western Satanism on Internet is only a means of exchanging photos and symbols, a playing about nothing really serious. Islam is Satanism.
